

Census Starts at Tough Spot

Officially the census does not start until April 1, but the census bureau sent an enumerator to the Farallon Islands, a rocky light-house station 25 miles west of San Francisco because of ideal weather conditions. Here Helen Leslie Mahbott starts the official count by interviewing Thomas Riley, 18, lighthouse keeper. The water is so rough around the island that visitors are taken ashore on a boom. In this case it was whaleboat and till. (A.P. Wirephoto)

Mayor Proposes Route for Detour

Port Ewen Man Hurt in Accident

Driver of Car Says Victim Walked in Front of His Auto

Santo Torrisi, 73, of Port Ewen, was struck and injured by an automobile as he was crossing Route 9W near the Salom street intersection in Port Ewen about 8:30 p. m. Wednesday.

Torrisi was taken by Conner's ambulance to Kingston Hospital, where his condition today was reported as "fair." The extent of his injuries was not revealed.

Deputies Harry Keator and Delbert Sapp of the sheriff's office reported that the automobile which struck the aged man was driven by Hugh Holmes, 62, of Wilmington. Del. Holmes told the deputies that Torrisi walked in front of the automobile from the left side of the highway as Holmes was driving north on 9W.

A radio antenna was broken off the left front fender of the automobile by the accident.

Holmes and another Wilmington man who was riding with him told the deputy sheriffs that traffic light at the intersection was green at the time of the accident. No arrest was made.

The same route will be used in reverse for south-bound traffic from the two uptown routes and all local traffic passing from one section of the city to the other will use the detour route both ways. Route 9W traffic will continue as usual to and from the Roundout creek bridge over the East Chester street by-pass.

Grand street will be used as the detour street for the accommodation of those using city bus service. Buses will use Grand street, Smith avenue, and O'Neil street.

New Rules Required

Because of heavy traffic on the detour route, the mayor said, it will be necessary to make new rules and regulations governing traffic on some of the streets.

It will be necessary to prohibit parking on one side of some of the streets and possibly on both sides in other instances.

Knaust Brothers Offer $1,000 for Fire Information

Knaust Brothers, Inc., mushroom growers and processors, have offered a reward of $1,000 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of any person or persons connected with the fire Tuesday morning at the Rosendale packing plant of the company.

The blaze, which destroyed a two-story building and threatened smoke destruction to 50,000 lbs. of mushrooms, caused damage, Knausts said, in excess of $200,000. The company has been involved in a labor dispute, which still continues.

Knausts said today the reward had been posted with the Saugerties National Bank and Trust company. The growers have designated a "committee of three individuals" who will determine the eligibility of any person or persons to the reward. Names of the "committee of three" were not made known.

Any person having information is asked to see in touch with District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn or Sheriff George L. Smith at the Ulster County Court House.

All information, the Knausts spokesman said, will be kept in confidence.

Use Foxhall Ave., Smith Ave., O'Neil Street; May Alter Rules

Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk today announced the proposed detour route for traffic during construction of the Broadway crossing underpass.

Traffic off Route 9W and other points south of the crossing, headed for The Onteora Trail (Route 28) and Route 209 will travel from Broadway to Foxhall avenue to Prince street to Smith avenue and to O'Neil street and over that street back on Broadway.

The same route will be used in reverse for south-bound traffic from the two uptown routes and all local traffic passing from one section of the city to the other will use the detour route both ways. Route 9W traffic will continue as usual to and from the Roundout creek bridge over the East Chester street by-pass.

Grand street will be used as the detour street for the accommodation of those using city bus service. Buses will use Grand street, Smith avenue, and O'Neil street.

New Rules Required

Because of heavy traffic on the detour route, the mayor said, it will be necessary to make new rules and regulations governing traffic on some of the streets.

It will be necessary to prohibit parking on one side of some of the streets and possibly on both sides in other instances.

The detour route was suggested following discussions by Chief of Police Raymond Van Buren, Mayor Newkirk, Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy, City Engineer Arthur J. Hallinan, and others, and the mayor and a Chamber of Commerce committee recently discussed the plan.

Alert Detectives Catch Liquor Store Robber

New York, March 30 (AP)—Joseph Williams, 22, was taken before he started last night.

Police said he peered in the door of a Bronx liquor store, took a quick glance up and down the street to see if there were any passers-by, and then walked in.

Once inside, they said, he pulled something that looked like a gun and stuck up the clerk, John Bartiste, taking $87.

Then he turned and walked into the arms of three detectives who were waiting for him at the front door.

The detectives said they were working on another case when they saw Williams "acting suspiciously." They said they trailed him, saw him enter the store, and watched the holdup through the window.

When they searched him, they said, they found a toy pistol.

'Ireland' Clause Bars Anglo Help

Amendment Prevents Help to Britain While Irish Partition Still Holds

May Be Defeated

House Leaders Predict Amendment Will Be Beaten

Washington, March 30 (AP)—The House "Irish bloc" rode high today after saddling the administration's foreign aid bill with a clause which would cut Britain off without a cent so long as Ireland remains partitioned.

An amendment aimed at barring Britain from economic help while the Emerald Isle remains part independent and part in the British commonwealth was approved late yesterday 99 to 66.

The vote was tentative and is not expected to stand when the final roll call comes late today or tomorrow. But it raised a lot of good humored bantering before House leaders called for adjournment and began rallying forces to defeat it.

President Truman's lieutenants said they weren't worried about the anti-partition amendment. They were concerned, however, over another vote which appeared more likely to stick.

This one, also tentative, approved 119 to 107 an amendment to tie up $1,000,000,000 in Marshall aid funds for the purchase of U. S. farm products.

Drive for Cut Goes On

A G.O.P.-led drive was primed meanwhile to lop another $150,000,000 from European recovery funds for the fiscal year beginning July 1, and to try for a death blow to President Truman's "Point Four" program of technical assistance to undeveloped areas.

Successful earlier in slashing $250,000,000 from Marshall Plan money, House critics of government spending took aim on $150,000,000 more in the form of carry-over funds from this year's unexpended aid money.

Rep. Tobor (R-N. Y.), top financial adviser to House Republicans, led the attack. He said the Economic Cooperation Administration (E.C.A.) had overestimated its recovery spending needs for the fiscal year ending this June 30, and that it had not figured on its needs in the new year either "properly or intelligently."

But if the going was rough on administration shepherds of President Truman's $3,372,450,000 foreign aid measure yesterday, sure and it was a great day for House members who call Ireland their mother country.

Fogarty Offered Amendment

The vote to knock Britain out of the Marshall Plan came on an amendment by Rep. Fogarty (D-I. L.), which without success put the same condition in last year's Marshall Plan bill.

Fogarty, in presenting his proposal, told the House that under his proposal Britain within 24 hours would give Ireland a chance to vote on the kind of government it wants.

McGoldrick, Democrat, Is to Be Rent Control Boss

Albany, N. Y., March 30 (AP)—New York state will go into the residential rent control business May 1, and Governor Dewey indicates that Joseph D. McGoldrick, a New York city Democrat, will be the boss.

Dewey signed last night his Republican administration rent control bill. It was passed by the 1950 Legislature, with the aid of one Democratic senator.

The governor, explaining the law in a statewide broadcast, charged that the federal rent control program had "been accomplished by both uncertainties and corruption."

"I cannot in good conscience leave the people of the state to the mercies of the federal government any longer," he declared.

Dewey vetoed two other rent measures passed by the Legislature. One was sponsored by the Democrats; the other by Westchester county's Republican legislative delegation.

The latter vetoed the state's present "standby" control law continued another year. It would become operative only if and when all federal control ended.

Dewey ripped apart the opposition bills in a speech that previewed the expected Republican defense of its rent control program in the November election. Democrats have promised they will make rent control an issue.

Dewey implied strongly that McGoldrick was his choice for

Rainmakers Seek Catskill Headquarters

New York, March 30 (AP)—New York city's rainmakers drove to the Catskill mountain region today in search of a field headquarters.

Dr. Wallace E. Howell, the city's $100-a-day expert, was accompanied by Robert Miller, radar technician. At Wurtsboro, N. Y., they were to be joined by John Aalto, division engineer of the city water department.

The motor tour will cover points in Ulster, Schoharie and Delaware counties. Meantime, the experts deferred for today any attempt to milk rain clouds with dry ice pellets.

Acheson Fears Cut Would Have Bad Effects in Orient

Middle East, Other Areas Also Would Think It Indicated No Interest

Washington, March 30 (AP)—Secretary of State Acheson told Congress today that any cut in the $45,000,000 asked for President Truman's "Point Four" program would have unfortunate results on efforts to check communism in Asia.

"It would undoubtedly be interpreted by the peoples of the free countries of Asia, the Middle East and other undeveloped areas as indicating a lack of interest in a program upon which they have been putting very great hopes," he said.

Acheson went before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to argue for the proposed program of American technical aid to raise production methods and living standards in backward areas of the world. The plan got the name "Point Four" from President Truman's listing of it in his inaugural address last year.

The Senate group is considering the proposal at a time when Acheson reported to be trying to draw Great Britain and France into a united front against the spread of communism in Asia.

Says Estimate Careful

Acheson told the senators that the $45,000,000 figure is a careful estimate of what is needed for the 12 months beginning July 1. He said any cut would "seriously handicap the undertaking of specific activities which can be effectively organized during the coming year."

He and roving Ambassador Philip Jessup gave the Senate committee a confidential report yesterday on the Asiatic situation. They were said to have urged increased aid to help that area resist communism.

The administration, seeking to fit the Point Four program into the framework of anti-communist policy, has asked Congress for $45,000,000 to get the ball rolling.

Thus far, Congress has shown no great enthusiasm for the program.

Broad Outlines Given

Acheson and Jessup gave senators only the broad outlines of the Far Eastern policy in yesterday's meeting. But a lawmaker who was present said: "I thought they took the first concrete step toward alteration."

McGoldrick, a New York city comptroller in Mayor Fiorello H. La Guardia's administration, served as state rent administrator in 1946 when federal controls lapsed for 25 days and the state's "standby" law went into effect.

The G.O.P. bill was drawn by the temporary State Rent Study Commission.

It will freeze until next March 1 residential rents in areas outside of New York city at the March 1, 1950, level. Rents in New York city will be frozen, with minor exceptions, at the March 1, 1949, level.

The new law covers all residential rents under federal or New York city rent ceilings. The state rent administrator is authorized to extend controls to areas decontrolled by the federal government.

Exempt from its provisions are public housing, transient hotels, new housing completed since Feb. 1, 1947, and housing created after next May 1 through remodeling or alterations.

"Minor" service increases will be permitted after July 1. After Dec. 1, increases are permitted

Knaust Is Cleared By Grand Jury of Weapons Charge

Eighteen Open Indictments Are Handed Up at Supreme Court Session

Warren Knaust, general manager of the struck Knaust Brothers, Inc., mushroom plants who was charged by one of the striking workers, Virgil Finger of Saugerties, with first degree assault for the alleged pointing of a revolver on March 17, was cleared of the charge by the grand jury which reported this morning to Justice Harry E. Schirick. The grand jury reported a dismissal of the charge.

Knaust appeared at the court house shortly before the grand jury made its report. He was under $1,000 bail which had been fixed by Justice of the Peace Edward Brodsky of the town of Rosendale before whom the charge was lodged. Brodsky had ordered the case heard by the grand jury.

Among the 18 open indictments filed by the grand jury was one charging William Mavon, 62-year-old Gardiner farm laborer, with manslaughter, first degree, for the ax slaying of Carl Johnson, 40, in the Johnson shack on the Kurtz farm near Ireland Corners on February 18.

Johnson's body was found in the shack and a bloody ax was found near the door. The frozen body of Geneva Smith was found some 200 feet from the shack and authorities later determined she had died of exposure, apparently when she left the shack after Johnson had been killed. Evidence of drinking was found and it is believed she fell to the ground as she attempted to flee with heavy suitcases in which she had packed her clothing and unable to rise froze to death in the sub-zero weather.

Enters Innocence Plea

Mavon, who is severely crippled, was employed on the John Lucy farm near Gardiner. He entered a plea of innocent to the manslaughter charge and his case was transferred to County Court on motion of District Attorney Louis G. Bruhn. Mavon was remanded to jail in the absence of bail. Asked if he had an attorney, Mavon said he had consulted with Joseph Deyo but had not employed a lawyer. Justice Schirick said counsel would be assigned by the county judge in the event the

Nine Men Die in Sanatorium From Fire-Caused Fumes

Philadelphia, March 30 (AP)—Nine male patients — some strapped in their beds — died last night as choking fumes from a basement fire filled upper rooms of a private sanatorium.

A fireman and at least 30 other patients, both men and women, were killed by fumes in a wing of the Belle-Vista Sanatorium for convalescent, senile, nervous and mental cases.

Rescuers tore apart wire mesh-covered windows to lead scores of others to safety.

The three-story, stone sanatorium is located in suburban Springfield township on Philadelphia's northwestern border.

Fire Marshal Edward H. Chew said the blaze apparently started in the basement laundry room on an unknown cause. It spread to the first floor where the men were

Big Mo's Skipper Gives Guilty Plea to Counts

Assumes Sole Responsibility for Grounding of Battleship on Chesapeake Shoal January 17; Charges Are Read

Norfolk, Va., March 30 (AP)—Capt. William D. Brown pleaded guilty today to charges of negligence and neglect of duty in the grounding of the battleship Missouri.

Brown, who commanded the Big Mo when she ran aground on a Chesapeake bay shoal January 17, pleaded guilty to each of three charges and four specifications.

The action of the former skipper of the 45,000-ton battleship came shortly after he was arraigned before a general court martial convened to try him on the charges.

Several minutes earlier he had stood before the court, composed of four rear admirals and three captains, and heard the judge advocate read these charges:

(1) "Through negligence suffering a vessel of the navy to be stranded."

(2) "Through negligence suffering a vessel of the navy to be hazarded."

(3) "Neglect of duty."

The 47-year-old officer, who was relieved as commanding officer of the Missouri shortly after the vessel was refloated February 1 had told a naval court of inquiry which investigated the grounding that "I and I alone" bore the sole responsibility for the accident.

Brown had become skipper of the nation's only active battleship last December. The Missouri was the first capital ship he had commanded and the first ship of any type he had skippered since 1943.

Drawn by Admiral

The charges against Brown were drawn by Rear Adm. Allan E. Smith, who had convened the court of inquiry and who ordered Brown and two other officers of the Missouri to stand trial by general court martial. Smith is commander of the Atlantic Fleet cruiser force.

The court martial defendants are Cmdr. John H. Millett, the Big Mo's former operations officer, and Lt. Cmdr. Frank G. Morris, former navigator. Millett is charged with neglect of duty and through negligence suffering a vessel of the navy to be hazarded. Morris is charged with neglect of duty and culpable inefficiency in the performance of duty.

The trial of Morris began Monday and has proceeded through three days of wrangling over legal technicalities. Only three of more than 40 scheduled witnesses have been heard.

Millett, who was slated to stand trial Monday simultaneously with Morris, has had his case postponed each day in order to prepare his defense. The trial now is scheduled to get under way tomorrow.

26 Plead Guilty

Sofia, Bulgaria, March 30 (AP)—Six Bulgarians and 20 Bulgarians yesterday pleaded guilty to spying for Yugoslavia and plotting to overthrow the Bulgarian government. Branko Sveratz, one of the defendants, told the court in Sofia's palace of justice he had received money and instructions from a secretary of the Yugoslav embassy here and had been promised firearms and explosives for carrying out terrorist activities.

Body Is Identified

Phillipsburg, N. J., March 30 (AP)—The body of a man found in the Delaware river was identified today as that of Minor T. Hoyt, a Glen Spey, N. Y., man who has been reported missing since his brother's funeral January 10. The body, taken out of the river yesterday some 80 miles below Glen Spey, was identified by Hoyt's nephew, Henry Groff of Trenton. Glen Spey is located near Port Jervis, N. Y.

Juncture For 9W Gets Attention

Probable Spot Is Where Neighborhood Road Joins Route, Erskine Says

Data Compiled

Onteora Trail Change Is Being Studied by Authorities

State engineers are considering the proposed bridge over the Hudson river between Kingston and Rhinecliff in current plans for connecting Route 9W with the New York State Thruway. A. R. Erskine, assistant district engineer, said today.

A survey is scheduled to start within the next week on a plan to connect Route 9W with the thruway at a point where the Neighborhood Road now joins the route, the engineer said.

Location No Influence

This plan, he revealed, will make it possible to connect with the route leading to the proposed Hudson river bridge whether it is built near the Kingston Point area or further north.

The New York State Bridge Authority favors the site nearest Kingston Point where preliminary surveys have been made, while the state public works department favors a site further north.

The survey on Route 9W north of the city was scheduled to start this week, Erskine said, but one of the engineers is ill, and it will be delayed for a few days.

Is Definite Part

Connection of the thruway with Route 9W north of the city was first mentioned as an alternate plan in the event that the plan for an interchange on the Onteora Trail (Route 28) was abandoned, but now, the engineer indicated, it is included as a definite part of the thruway system.

Meanwhile, data has been compiled for the Route 28 interchange within the first mile of the highway west of the city, and that is now being studied in preparation for extension of the thruway in the Kingston area this year.

Work to Be Resumed

Work is scheduled to be resumed at Saugerties for building the interchange where the thruway intersects Route 212, and from there it is to be extended toward Kingston. Plans are completed for the Saugerties-Kingston section of the route as far as Lake Katrine, and that part from there to Kingston is expected to be ready for bidding in the near future.

Pants Are Bears

Salt Lake City (UP)—The Navy may never have thought it would happen but some of its surplus flying pants are becoming Teddy bears. The fleece-lined pants make very cuddly bears. Mrs. Wayne C. Anderson got the Teddy bear idea when her husband brought home 150 pairs which he bought as surplus and planned to sell. She cuts up the pants and sews the pieces together in the shape of three-foot tall teddies. For noses, feet, bottoms and paws she uses the dark brown leather from the pockets. She stuffs the bears with upholstery batting. Fox eyes from a furrier serve as eyes. And Mrs.

Anderson says the pants bring more money as teddy bears.

New Yorker Held For Questioning In Hupe Slaying

Chicago, March 30 (AP)—Police today held a 21-year-old New Yorker for questioning about the New York robbery-slaying of William Hupe.

Sgt. Joseph Grady said John J. King, who gave his address as 1221 48th street, Woodside, Queens, denied any connection with the slaying of Hupe, 29, last March 15, in Flushing. Grady said King walked into a police station and declared: "This is going to be funny. I'm wanted in New York in connection with a murder. I'm tired of running away and I want to go back."

Grady said King said he "just got scared" after fleeing New York when he learned that two other youths had implicated him in the Hupe death.

Detective John Doyle said King told him he knew slightly Judson Conover, 29, who was seized here earlier in connection with two Chicago holdups. Conover and his brother, Steven, 25, are held without charge. Authorities said they admitted robbing two Chicago taxi drivers while also taking part in three New York robberies.

Two men have been indicted in the Hupe slaying. They are William Power, 21, of Huntington, N. Y., and Raymond, 19, of Manhattan. A John Doe indictment also was returned under which New York authorities sought a "John J. King."

Everyone is cordially invited to attend all services.

Trouble With Rabbits

Sydney (AP)—Rabbits today are a bigger worry to the sheep and cattle growers of Australia than ever before. The rabbits are eating grass meant for sheep and cattle, and are increasing in numbers. There are four main reasons: 1. Americans are wearing fewer felt hats made from rabbit fur. This makes the business of killing rabbits for skins less profitable. 2. There has been a slump in the export of rabbit carcasses to Britain. 3. The past season has been a good one. Rabbits thrive when there is plenty of grass. 4. There is a shortage of wire-netting to make rabbit proof fences.

The National Geographic Society says eruptions of Mt. Etna are usually from side craters, not the summit.

Woman, 23, Charged As Cattle Rustler

Oakland, Calif., March 30 (AP)—A blonde nurse, 23, charged with cattle rustling, readily showed a skeptical deputy sheriff how she could handle the four footed critters.

Mrs. Firth Band grasped Stanley Peterson around the waist "booted me three feet in the air" and said "like this."

Peterson weighs 185 pounds. Mrs. Band and three 17-year-old boys were charged with grand theft of five calves and four cows. The calves were found in a slaughterhouse, which bought them for $135. The cows were sold previously in Sacramento. Owners said they were worth $535.

Mrs. Band, a nicely proportioned 5 foot 10, said she learned to like cattle and horses in Wyoming. She added that she took nurse's training in Boston.

Bednasek to Tell Of Final Events

Iowa City, Ia., March 30 (AP)—The final moments of a campus date that turned a wonderful evening "into a tragic night will be told today by Robert E. Bednasek, 24, at his murder trial.

The University of Iowa psychology student will give his version of what happened early on the morning of Dec. 11 when pretty, blonde Margaret Anne (Gee-Gee) Jackson, 20, was killed in a room of the "Empty Arms" rooming house where Bednasek lived.

The handsome, broad-shouldered Bednasek is charged with strangling the golden-haired coed because of jealousy and fear of losing her.

Bednasek took the witness stand yesterday and related in a soft voice, and some weeping, events of the day and night preceding Miss Jackson's death—a day which he said had been "one of the happiest we had ever had together."

He told the jury of his arrangements for a surprise seafood and wine supper in a room of the "Empty Arms," and of how at this candlelit repast they professed their love for each other and considered elopement plans.

Child Wins Title

Boston, March 30 (AP)—Her valiant fight against arthritis, today won Martha Kelley, 4½, the title of "Miss Marlyr of 1950" at the Massachusetts General Hospital. The child, suffering from painful rheumatoid arthritis, has been a hospital patient for two and one-half years. Nurses reported that no once in all that time has she cried to attract attention to her suffering. Her tiny legs are attached to heavy traction weights during the day. The weights are replaced by cumbersome casts at night.

Excavations show that early in developed great skill in carving the inhabitants of ancient Eridu, Iraq, the dead.

VANDENBERG'S LOSS

Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg's recent proposal for a nonpartisan commission to study foreign policy points up how sorely missed in the Senate these days is the voice of the Republicans' leading foreign affairs spokesman. Not only his party but the whole country is the loser.

Presumably ill health will compel Vandenberg to keep to the sidelines most of the time from now until his term expires in 1952. He does not intend to run again.

There's no doubt Vandenberg is the man who made the bi-partisan foreign policy a working formula in Congress. That service has been of inestimable value to the nation at a time in history when the United States needed to show a united front to a world plagued by communism.

Vandenberg was uniquely fitted for this role. He dedicated himself in recent years almost entirely to foreign issues. As a specialist he gained stature in the eyes of both parties. His remarks took on added weight because he was not constantly embroiled in the daily verbal brawling on domestic questions.

Strangely, too, his influence seemed the greater because he was an internationalist. His colleagues felt in him something of the fervor of the convert. His dramatic shift, made in response to the realities of atomic and guided missile warfare, was the real beginning of his leadership in the Senate.

Within the Senate Republican group there developed a sort of division of labor, Vandenberg carrying the burden in the foreign field and Senator Taft piloting domestic policy.

Though many of his colleagues didn't go the whole way toward sharing his internationalist views, the Michigan senator often was eloquent enough to persuade them to follow him on key matters like the Marshall Plan and the foreign arms aid program.

Up to now no other Senate Republican has showed similar power to command the support of his party colleagues for a broadly internationalist foreign program. The internationalists in both parties, who constitute an overwhelming majority in the Senate, are regretful that no one is yet rising to take Vandenberg's place.

Hopes once had been pinned on Senator John Foster Dulles, veteran of many an international parley, but his defeat in New York last fall dashed them.

Some talk of Senator Lodge of Massachusetts as a likely successor, but thus far he has not made great strides toward establishing himself as a foreign affairs leader.

It will be unfortunate if strong new leadership does not emerge to fill the gap Vandenberg is leaving. For the United States has not yet won the cold war. It still has great need of presenting to Europe and the rest of the world a single, determined front.

Leftovers frequently make a good meal. It's the leftovers from the leftovers which are difficult to digest.

WHERE WOMEN LAG

There are two reports waiting for the United Nations Commission on the Status of Women. One is a survey of the economic and political position of women in the various nations of the world, and it shows that women have full political equality with men in fifty-two nations. The other is a survey of the status of women within the United Nations Organization itself. It shows that of 140 policy-making posts, only three are held by women; in the professional categories of employment in the United Nations establishment, men outnumber women four to one, and of all the delegations sent to annual General Assembly sessions by the fifty-nine member nations only one, that of India, has ever been headed by a woman. Maybe fairness like charity, begins at home.

READY FOR FILES

As the prospect of the return of summer's population of flies peeks over the horizon, it is announced that a chemical manufacturer produced a new synthetic fly poison said to be many times more effective than any previously available. This is fair enough, for certainly it seems every summer that the flies are many times more numerous than they were the year before.

'These Days'

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Jews Behind The Iron Curtain

All the evidence from reputable Jewish sources establishes that a systematic persecution of Jews has been taking place in those countries which are now controlled by Soviet Russia. The attack is covered by using the term, "Cosmopolitan," instead of the proper term, Jew.

Yet, "The National Jewish Monthly," published by B'nai B'rith, produces an article by Richard Yaffe, which is a fulsome defense of Russian policies toward Jews.

Richard Yaffe has a record of friendship for Soviet Russia. He has been a member of the Committee for a Democratic Far Eastern Policy, declared to be subversive by the California Committee on Un-American Activities; the Committee for a Democratic Policy Toward China; Friends of Italian Democracy. He has contributed to the Communist publication, "Science and Society," and to "Soviet Russia Today."

He was employed on the New York Journal-American, where he supported the left-wing faction of the Guild. He then transferred to Marshall Field's P.M. and was on its successor, "The Star," which folded. He found himself on the "Battery," the Polish ship which Gershwin Elsen escaped from this country, and by coincidence, was the only reporter present on the occasion.

Mr. Yaffe explains that the ties between Soviet Russia and the satellites are each year becoming closer. He brings as witness:

"Rokossovsky's appointment (to Poland) should not have occasioned so much surprise in the Western press. Anyone who has followed developments in the Cominform countries of the East knows or should know that the underlying goal of the Cominform is the integration of the economies and the defense system of the Peoples' Democracies with each other, and of all of them with those of the Soviet Union."

This he justifies on the grounds: "There is nothing unique about this military-economic system. It also exists in the American sphere, through the Marshall Plan and the Atlantic Pact, which insist on integration of the economies and defense systems of the Western European nations receiving help from America, all tied, of course, to the foreign policy of the U.S.A."

Yet, Great Britain recognized Soviet China, an act antagonistic to American policy; and France pursues an independent policy in Western Germany, which is one of the most difficult problems the United States faces. Mr. Yaffe's assumption that the United States controls the world with its aid is a Russian propagandistic charge, utterly false, although some Americans, like myself, would like to see some quid pro quo. Thus far, there has been none.

Yaffe then goes on to tell that purges are now occurring in satellite countries, designed to make them one in six years. And he says that this program will succeed. Thereupon he explains the current persecution of the Jews. He says:

"It is not anti-Jewish. It is, rather, anti-class. Because these are now workers! Governments, the class aspects of the Eastern governments have been turned upside down. The former ruling class has been, or is in the process of being, dispossessed. Because, for historical reasons, the Jew in these countries has been the merchant or the small manufacturer, he has been among the hardest hit by the revolution. He is therefore a victim of class rather than religious or national discrimination."

This is untrue. Most of these Jews in these areas were workers. Fewer of them were farmers. They were tailors, glaziers, shoemakers, carpenters, etc.

Mr. Yaffe holds out this hope for the Jews of Eastern Europe—that they will disappear. It is the same hope that Hitler held out to them. Yaffe says:

"In any event, what Jewish life will exist in Eastern Europe will be found only in Hungary and Rumania, and this too will gradually disappear as the older generations die off. The youth being indoctrinated in the Socialist way of life will know no other, and assimilation, in the real sense of the word, will begin to take place. It will result, in no more than two or three generations, in the complete disappearance of Jews as a national or religious grouping."

And when he writes that he does not include one expression of regret at this genocide, Herman Goering sometimes did express regret. Apparently the Communists take their cue from Hitler. (Copyright, 1950, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

DIET AND DECAY OF TEETH

Dentists are not all agreed as to the cause of decay of teeth (caries). There appear to be three opinions. One group believes that carbohydrates (starchy food such as sugar, potatoes, bread) leave particles on the teeth and as these particles gradually dissolve they form acids which attack the outer enamel of the teeth causing tiny holes. Decay results. A second group believes that eating too much starch food means not enough other nourishing foods, thus making an unbalanced diet which causes decay of teeth. The third group firmly believe that the Drs. Agnew missionary dentists, who from "controlled" experiments state that it is the "wrong" diet which causes tooth decay—not enough protective foods.

An editorial in "The Journal of the American Medical Association" states that as it is hard to control the diet of human beings, it is necessary to try to experiment on animals to obtain information on dietary decay. Two species of experimental animals, the cotton rat and the Syrian hamster, have been found suitable for studies of the effect of diet on the incidence or percentage of cases of dental decay. The results obtained on the cotton rat show that animals fed on a diet rich in carbohydrates (starches) uniformly show a much higher percentage of dental decay than those fed the same diet but with protein or fat substituted in part to make up the same number of calories daily. These same results were obtained with the Syrian hamster.

Another point of interest brought out in the studies on the rat is that amount of dental decay in animals fed milk only was practically negligible. This is in line with the findings of the Drs. Agnew, who stated that milk and other dairy products, which are known, together with leafy vegetables, as "protective" foods, are effective in preventing decay.

By eating some protein—meat, eggs, fish—and the protective foods—leafy products and green vegetables—and rounding out the diet with enough, but no more, carbohydrates, the general health of the individual, including the teeth, will be kept at its best.

Filling up with starch food particularly candy and pastry, will leave little room or appetite for proteins and protective foods.

The Voice of Experience

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—The U. S. defense picture is so complicated that it's difficult even for congressmen who sit on Army-Navy appropriations committees to understand whether the United States is in danger of slicing its defenses too thin. However, here are some facts which senators may want to study in connection with General Eisenhower's views on national defense.

1. Secretary Louis Johnson has done a good job of cutting civilian personnel, political shipyarders, old Indian forts, and other military "fat." Congressmen squawk loudest when local shipyards and military posts are curtailed. But Johnson has had the courage to cut anyway.

2. New weapons, which cannot be described here, may make a lot of present weapons obsolete. It's a waste of money, therefore, to accumulate an arsenal of conventional weapons which may be out of date in a year or so.

3. Regarding the air force, considered the nation's main striking arm, Secretary Johnson has not given the public a true picture of the facts. The real fact is that the air force is far behind the standard set for it by Congress.

Deceptive Figures
 It should be recalled, of course, that it was President Truman, not Secretary Johnson, who flouted the congressional vote that the air force should be 70 groups strong. Johnson wanted 54 groups, but Truman cut to 48.

But perhaps because of super-loyalty to his chief, Johnson has not been frank with the nation regarding the real status of our air strength. Here is a case in point.

One of Johnson's most important statements on U. S. air strength was given to the press on Feb. 24 for release—Johnson explained to newsmen—at 7 p. m., Feb. 25, in order to give his friend Arthur Krock time to break the story in the New York Times.

In this statement, the secretary of defense claimed that air force personnel had now surpassed the figure of 401,000 men set for it in the Finletter report—the study made by Tom Fin-

Public Needs Facts

Johnson also claims that under his economy program the air force will have 8,800 planes, with 1,252 more new planes in the fiscal year 1950, and another 1,283 new planes in the following year.

letter and other experts as to what our air strength should be.

When you scrutinize Johnson's statement carefully, however, you arrive at somewhat different facts. While it is true that air force personnel now totals 415,000 men, the Finletter figure of 401,000 men provided that ground services—repairs, upkeep of airfields, hangars, etc.—be done by the army. Now the air force must furnish its own ground services, hence it needs more manpower.

Too Few B-36's
 Johnson also told newsmen that the B-29 bomb groups had been doubled, thus giving the impression that the air force now has as many plants with 48 groups as it would have with 70 of the smaller groups. In other words, B-29 groups used to have 30 planes. Now, Johnson said, they have 60.

But the secretary of defense didn't give the whole story. He didn't explain, for instance, that 15 of the extra planes with which Bob Kerr acted as if he had been slapped when a friend innocently suggested a quote from Ecclesiastes for a speech. Bob's reputation as a Bible quoter is beginning to get under his skin.... Congratulations to Mayor Allen Street of Oklahoma City and the Oklahoma City symphony orchestra for commemorating our long and much-prized friendship with Canada by saluting that friendship this week.

Only by using the very best equipment and the latest technology will so small a force be able to carry effective war to the enemy," said the Finletter report, referring to the "very heavy" bombers.

Yet today the air force has only two groups of B-36's or slightly more than 60. One hundred and sixty more have been ordered. This, however, is a long way from the 700 "very heavy" bombers recommended in the Finletter report.

The latest models have miniature carpets and beds and one-inch flagstones set in front.

Democrats Are Charged With Destroying Cooperative Spirit of Foreign Policy Work

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, March 30—A lot of holler-than-thou speeches are being made about how the Republicans are upsetting the bipartisan foreign policy, when the truth of the matter is that the Democrats are primarily responsible for destroying the fine spirit of cooperation which once prevailed.

It's all very well for former Secretary Stimson and others with short memories to denounce the Republicans for their attacks on foreign policy, but the principal damage was done last autumn when John Foster Dulles—who, with some exception of Senator Vandenberg, was the strongest influence in the Senate for bipartisan cooperation—was pilloried by the Democratic party's wrecking crew in the New York state campaign.

With Senator Vandenberg in ill health, it was logical that Mr. Dulles would carry the ball for a bipartisan foreign policy at this session. But the heavy guns of the Democratic administration were trained on him just the same. This antagonized the Republicans in Congress, many of whom harbor to this day a bitter resentment against the tactics of the administration. John Foster Dulles himself has magnanimously chosen to ignore the episode and strive again for cooperation.

Some of the Republicans in the Senate, however, say that it is all very well for a Republican to cooperate and help the Democrats muddle through a difficult situation, but his reward usually is a series of partisan reprisals the moment he runs for office.

With all respect to former Governor Lehman, it was far more important for the country to have Mr. Dulles returned to the Senate. The term was only a year, and it would have been a great example of nonpartisanship if the Truman administration had come out in support of the Republican candidate. That would have made sense because it would have been an example of real patriotism on the part of the administration.

Today the Republicans are aware that whatever credit is due them for their cooperation will be minimized no matter how much they help and also that they will have no opportunity to formulate policy anyhow. For the Republicans were not consulted in the making of Far Eastern policy.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

The unemployment figures at first I thought were not too far from the truth. But when I saw the figures for the month of March, I was struck by the fact that the number of legitimately unemployed and needy workers is again formidable and growing.

Actually, there never has been an hour of substantial, valid recovery from the misadventure of Hoover's depression. Instead, for one long period, there was "pump-priming" and made-work, leaf-raking and shovel-leaving, which absorbed the more urgent claims and put a little money in their pockets. It put a lot of money into the pockets of contractors and other deserting Democrats, too. This cost billions at a time when a billion still had a little prestige in the popular imagination, but those billions were forgotten as other expedients were tried in quick succession. All of them resulted in no substantial gain. We lost ground steadily.

In rough generalities the vast experiment in sheet monkey-business, followed by war and the futile American attempt to support the world, has never achieved a recovery from the debacle which was unfairly attributed to Herbert Hoover. The first stage was the handout phase in which Roosevelt ingratiated himself with the jobless millions by handing out checks for money. There was powerful propaganda in those gifts from the Treasury spread among worried and almost desperate Americans who had been reduced to basking in the sun and peddling their rump door to door among neighbors without money to buy.

I knew an accountant on the Connecticut shore who dug claims and was almost tearful when he could sell fifty cents worth. Pick and shovel work was out of his line, but he was glad to try when a neighborhood politician, peddling in the street, was on a case a road to be widened and fine stone walls to be built along a frontage of property which he owned.

The accountant was frightened.

Questions - Answers So They Say...

Q—Who originated the baseball rain check?
 A—Almer Powell of New Orleans gave to baseball one of its most valuable assets—the rain check. In 1889 it was the custom to climb the fence of old Sportsman Park to see a game. If it rained, the fence buster walked out the main gate and received a ticket to the next day's game. That was no way to make money on the rain check scheme was invented.

Q—Does the use of aluminum cooking utensils cause any possible danger from aluminum poisoning?
 A—No. Aluminum is not considered to be poisonous.

Girl Driver Loses Control; Cop Killed

New York, March 30 (AP)—A young policeman died with an iron railing stuck through his chest yesterday as a girl driver lost control of her car on a parkway slippery from ocean mist.

The metal was driven through the front of the car when it bounced off two other cars and hit the center railing of busy Belt Parkway along the Brooklyn shore.

The victim was Patrolman William Kennedy, 26. Another patrolman in the car was injured critically.

Police said the driver, 19-year-old Lois Travers, apparently was trying to light a cigarette when she lost control. She suffered a scalp wound.

The two policemen were off duty.

Patrolman Angelo Liquori, 34, of 1166 43rd street, Brooklyn, was reported in critical condition today at Coney Island Hospital.

He and Kennedy, who lived at 361 95th street, Brooklyn, were assigned to Brooklyn posts.

Police said the car driven by Miss Travers, of 91-02 Ridge Boulevard, Brooklyn, went through an iron railing of the center island of Belt Parkway and struck a car driven by Ned Granat, of 99-45 67th Road, Forest Hills, Queens. He was not injured. The girl's car then struck a parked car, whose two occupants escaped with a shaking up. They are Frank Cuccia, 20, of 8012 13th avenue, and Madeline Visconti, 17, of 1853 Croppsey avenue, both of Brooklyn. The girl's car then crashed into the center railing.

Suits Are Recovered

Boston, March 30 (AP)—Dozens of men's suits cascading out of the fifth floor window of an Essex street building aroused the curiosity of a passerby last night. He called police. They discovered the Beacon Clothing Company had been entered. The thieves apparently expected confederates to pick up the suits, valued at $4,200. All were recovered.

Dartmouth Student Killed Near Denver

Denver, March 30 (AP)—A Dartmouth College student from London, England, was killed and three others injured in an auto-truck collision on Loveland Pass west of here yesterday.

The dead youth was Norman Grant Clark, 21. An Idaho Springs, Colo., physician in whose office the youth died, said Clark's jugular vein was severed when he was thrown through the windshield.

Clark's companions who were injured are Thomas H. Clark, 20, of Omaha, Neb., driver of the car and cousin of the dead youth; Jack Martin, 22, of Hempstead, N. Y.; and James T. Lyons, 21, of Bronxville, N. Y.

Highway Patrolman Harold Newland said the four students were driving west over the 11,992-foot mountain pass on an Easter vacation trip. The accident occurred when they attempted to pass a snowplow and met a truck head-on.

No Women 'Kings'

The Salic law was an ancient code of justice of the Salians, a Germanic tribe, who invaded Gaul under Clovis. Specifically, the law under Clovis, specifically, the law in force in France until the close of the monarchy, prohibited women from succeeding to the French throne.

ding in today's hand West makes a very light double so he has to be unusually careful to try to defect the contract. He does not want to lead away from the account of clubs so he opens the ace of spades. When the dummy goes down with the singleton spade king, and his partner gives him the deuce, he knows that he cannot lead more spades.

He does not want to lead the ace of trumps and give the whole hand up. He cannot lead a diamond because South must have the ace of diamonds to justify his opening bid. Now we are down to the ace-queen of clubs combination. West has to hope that his partner has the king of clubs or not more than two clubs so he should lead the ace of clubs.

Last puts on the jack encouraging West to continue. West leads the queen of clubs. South wins with the king and plays the queen of spades, discarding dummy's ace of clubs.

Declarer's next play is the king of hearts. West should go right up with the ace and play the third club. Even though he knows that declarer can ruff it in dummy, he has to take a chance that his partner has a heart higher than the right-spot in order to defeat the contract.

THE RUMINATOR

A Column of Contrary Opinion
By HUMPHREY B. NEILL

A helpful stock-market tip at a time is to keep your eye on the railroad shares. If the rails do not succeed in pulling up out of their slump fluctuations then, according to hints from the Dow Theory, industrial stocks are likely to tumble down.

Let us look at the market's action for the nine days that followed the sharp upward thrust of industrial stocks on March 15. In those nine days the Dow-Jones average of 30 stocks—under increased volume of trading—succeeded in adding an additional three points of advance. On March 17 the advance was almost three points from that one day.

In other words, the industrial average has been struggling upward, not pushing forward vigorously.

It is an old market rule that struggling movements are frequently reversed sharply. With the reverse trend reacting (making up or losing) more points than were registered during the preceding movement. In the situation above mentioned this would mean—if the rule works out—that a sharp back would quickly wipe out more than was gained in those nine days.

Turning to the rail average, we find that during the nine days mentioned rail shares sagged downward, did not join the industrial in their upward struggle. We thus have witnessed a divergence in these two important averages.

If the stock market as a whole is to continue its forward march it seems that the rails will have to pick up and get moving upward very soon or we shall witness a good-sized crack in stock prices.

We have two negative indications, therefore: A struggling industrial average and a non-confirming sluggish rail average.

It will be understood, of course, that the foregoing merely applies to so-called technical market factors. It has nothing to do with the more fundamental forces of earnings and dividends, except insofar as these are reflected in market fluctuations.

Turning to general news, the Ruminator has felt that this month of March might give us the tip-off on the coming outlook for business and the stock market.

At this writing, near the end of the month, the boom in business remains promising—and the stock market has remained strong.

In other words, insofar as the first quarter of 1950 is concerned, the majority opinion has been right thus far. The contrary opinion has yet to prove itself.

However, it might be added here that one of the draw-backs to the theory of contrary opinion is that it is usually well ahead of events. That is to say, contrary trends are commonly slow in reversing and in consequence a contrary viewpoint is likely to be "previous" from a timing standpoint.

The shift last year from pessimism early in the year to the hope of recovery in the second

Huks Pillage 15 Villages, Kill 35; Burn 210 Homes

Manila, March 30 (AP)—The Philippine army today was ordered to end a reign of terror by Communist-led Hukbalaheps who have killed 35 persons, wounded at least 60 and pillaged 15 villages in two days.

The constabulary, traditional peace force, has failed to stop the recurrent disorders attributed to the war-born guerrilla organization.

Armed Huk bands, their ranks swelled in some instances by women, struck savagely, then slipped back into the jungles.

Two towns were burned when constabulary and police resisted. Property loss was estimated by police at 3,000,000 pesos ($1,500,000). The Huks burned at least 210 homes and buildings and looted stores of food and other supplies, including arms and ammunition.

Brig. Gen. Alberto Ramos, long under fire for failure of his constabulary to suppress the Huks, was summoned to an extraordinary conference with President Elpidio Quirino at Baguio. He disclosed afterwards that the army had been ordered to take over security.

Meanwhile, Ramos said, both army and constabulary reinforcements were rushed into rural areas near Manila to forestall further Huk raids tonight.

The raids started early Wednesday—the eighth anniversary of the Huk's founding—within 15 miles of Manila. The Huks have struck at points as far north as Nueva Ecija province and south as far as Batangas province. This covers a wide stretch of central Luzon, the main island.

Farther, Secretary of Interior Sergio Banguit said the situation was "not serious" but "another of the sporadic efforts of the Huks to embarrass the government."

Banguit, civilian head of the constabulary.

ness booming and the stock market apparently strong, one is unable to put his finger on the "time element" when a contrary opinion is likely to prove the correct view.

There are two psychological considerations to keep in mind: (1) When business is good and the stock market strong the general expectancy is that both conditions will continue; and (2) when business has been slumping and the market falling the general expectancy is that both will get worse.

It is with these human factors that the contrary opinion has to deal. It will be significant, therefore, to see what develops from the somewhat negative indications that have appeared in the stock market, as discussed in the opening of this article.

O'Dwyer Proposes Big Budget for 1950-51

New York, March 30 (AP)—William O'Dwyer proposed today a record-breaking city executive budget of $1,243,451,794 for the 1950-51 fiscal year.

In the nation it is second only to the federal budget.

The proposed budget is $41,896,430—or 3.49 per cent—over the modified budget for the current fiscal year, which ends June 30.

The new budget, presented to the Board of Estimate, does not call for new taxes on general salary increases. The increase is caused by debt service, mandatory salary increases, new position and rises in operating costs.

The sum of $967,747,009 is to be provided from real estate taxes and general fund revenues, and $275,704,785 from other sources, chiefly from state and federal aid.

Although the executive budget contains no prediction on the amount of the basic real estate tax rate for the next fiscal year, city financial experts figured that the new basic rate, effective July 1, will reach an all-time high.

The present rate is $2.89 per $100 of assessed valuation. Predictions at city hall were that the rate, to be fixed by the City Council, will jump 15 cents.

Improving Patents
More than 8,000 patents have been issued for improving the manufacture of leather shoes and shoes since the U. S. Patent Office was established in 1836.

Nearly 32,000,000 persons visited U. S. national parks in the 1949 travel year.

Plan Exhibition Of Photography at New Paltz College

Persons interested in photography who live within a 50-mile radius of New Paltz, may submit prints for an exhibition of photography now being planned by the Art Committee of New Paltz State Teachers College.

The exhibition will be on display from April 16 to April 29 at the college.

All entries must be mounted or matted on a standard 16 inch by 20 inch size with the photographer's name and picture title. All photographs must be delivered to the office of F. W. Seidelselmann, chairman of the Art Committee, in the main building of the State Teachers College by noon on Wednesday, April 5.

An invitational tea, sponsored by the faculty wives, will be held on Sunday, April 23, at which time popular awards will be made from ballots cast by students and guests. A committee of three non-participating members will count the votes and make the first, second and third awards and 10 honorable mentions. There will be no accompanying prizes.

Members of the Poughkeepsie and Newburgh Camera Clubs and individuals living in the New Paltz area will be represented in the show. The outstanding 1950 travelling collection by the Metropolitan Camera Club Council, Inc., of New York City will be on display but not considered in the balloting.

Easiest way to keep doughnuts at home is to put the doughnuts into a paper bag with flour and shake them lightly.

FOR A LATE SNACK, GET FLAKORN CORN MUFFIN MIX

For that late snack, serve corn muffins—plain, hot or cold, spread with butter or preserves. Quick and easy with Flakorn. Just add an egg and milk, and bake. Also quickly makes delicious pancakes, waffles.

Official Report Is Given for W.C.T.U. Executive Meeting

(Official Report)

The officers and directors of the Ulster County W.C.T.U. tell as if a miracle had come to them March 25 for the executive meeting at the home of Mrs. Myron Shults in Modena. Directions coming from local unions are not always acceptable to members of local unions, especially in rural sections. The new crusade is undertaken with the idea that the spirit of the first crusade may be reborn, with methods adapted to modern conditions. Some of the Ulster unions are now taking great strides in the financial journey undertaken to reach the goals set for a hold educational program, including the making of motion pictures, and interesting temperance literature. Books like Illusion's End and Where Prayer and Purpose Meet and It's Smart—Not to Drink, are to be multiplied. Membership goals are set—5,000 for New York—and some Ulster unions are struggling bravely to reach the quota of ten new members.

Letters to senators concerning the Langer bill—a bill that would curb the advertising of alcoholic beverages in interstate commerce—were talked over. The thousands received before the hearing are still needed to induce the senators to report the bill out of committee for debate on the Senate floor. Other bills that should win W.C.T.U. favor also were talked over, and objects studied.

The program for the Plattkill Institute was planned. The state president will send a speaker for the day, which the executive decided should be May 19. As the program is outlined, every county officer and every county and local director is to have a part in the program, a program designed to create enthusiasm for the New Crusade.

Special music is promised for the Plattkill Institute, and Mrs. Shults will have copies of the paper, Battle of Wm. of the W.C.T.U. written for world convention and sung over and over at national convention and state for Ulster county W.C.T.U.'s to learn.

Oil Well and Mine Income
Income to Indians and the federal government from oil wells and mines leased on federal property in 1934 totaled $34,250,000.

To Speak Here

GEORGE A. KOLMAN

The Mid-Hudson Chapter of the National Association of Cost Accountants will hold a special meeting at the Governor Clinton Hotel on Tuesday, April 4. A social hour will be held at 6, followed by dinner at 6:30. The meeting is scheduled for 7:30, when George A. Kolman, budget director of the General Foods Sales Company, Inc. will speak on "Battle of the Budgets."

The speaker was graduated from New York University, Class of 1923. His first assignment with the General Foods Sales Company came in 1928 as office manager of the New York district office. The following year he was made assistant to the eastern division sales manager. After seven years in this capacity Kolman became administrative assistant to the national sales manager. Since 1935 he has held the position of budget director. He is also national vice president of the Budget Executive Forum.

Violin Is Worth Fortune
North Hollywood, Calif. (AP)—It would take a fortune to buy the ancient violin owned by Vladimir Lenski. He values it at $100,000. The music teacher and former concert violinist says his fiddle was carved in 1510 by Gaspard DuRaffray, a French instrument maker to King Francis I of France. It is reputedly one of the earliest modern-type violins. Lenski acquired the prize, he says, more than 50 years ago from a member of the Russian royal family who admired his playing.

Returns on Car Theft
Chicago (AP)—If somebody takes your car here, the chances are about 5 to 1 that you will get it back. The police department says 4,390 motor vehicles were stolen in Chicago in 1934 but all but 801 of them were recovered.

NEW HURLEY

New Hurley, March 29.—Miss Bertha Sutton spent Tuesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Dewitt in Gardiner.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Boshen and sons of Poughkeepsie also friends from New Jersey were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Elnikel and mother, Mrs. Boshen over the week-end.

Mrs. Ldna DuBois returned to her home in this place on Sunday after spending the winter with her sister, Mrs. Henry Downs in Jersey City, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Humphreys drove to New Jersey to bring her home.

Newton Wright of Gardiner was dinner guest at the home of his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Powell on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur J. Van Wyck spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Thorne and daughter, Dorothy in Walden.

Several from here attended the play, Dead of the Night, at the Plattkill Grange Hall on Friday and Saturday nights. James Wilkin of this place was one of the leading characters.

Several from here attended the Lenten service in the Walden Reformed Church and heard a fine sermon delivered by the Rev. Dr. John W. Beardsley, former president of New Brunswick Seminary and General Synod.

Holy Communion will be observed in the New Hurley Church next Sunday at 11 a. m. New members will be received and the new elders and deacons will be installed. Gerow Wilkin and Albert Cronk will be installed as elders and Roscoe Pickens and Charles Garrison will be installed as deacons.

The Young Women's Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Jacques Bauman on Saturday afternoon, April 1, at 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. Arnold Portschning will be the assistant hostess.

Next Sunday the union Lenten service will be held in the Walden Reformed Church at 8 p. m. and an Easter play will be presented.

Monday evening April 3, the Hope College Girl's Glee Club will sing in the Plattkill Reformed Church at 8:15 o'clock and that same evening the Central College capella choir will sing in the Walden Reformed Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Crosby J. Wilkin were callers at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. Cornelius Meyer at Shawangunk Sunday afternoon.

Elba Gregg spent the week end in New York and attended the wedding of her sister Anna Thous in New York.

Wood Homes Stand A-Bombs Better Than Brick Houses

Washington, March 30 (AP)—That frame houses on the corner probably would stand up against an atom bomb better than the brick one next door.

But neither will be anything but rubble and ashes if it is within half a mile of the center of the blast. Heavily reinforced concrete buildings might be left standing. They would be burned and badly damaged shells.

Government experts say you can't count on any type of building to be reasonably safe unless it is at least three miles from a possible A-bomb target.

But they say well-built frame houses show good resistance to blast. They say resistance of brick buildings is poor. The walls support a load is rather poor. When two atom bombs were exploded off over Japan, damage to homes and other buildings was as great as to a mile and five-eighths away that they couldn't be used without repairing.

Partial damage extended out about two miles. Light damage to houses to plaster and window panes was felt as far as eight miles.

So what do you do? Dig a hole in the back yard? Put your family or shop underground?

Underground Best
Going underground probably would provide more security than anything else you could do. Shelters above ground, thick enough and properly built, would help a lot, too.

There's another possibility, dispersion. Of course it would be impossible to spread out all war plants, military installations and houses so they would be three miles apart. But they could be scattered so that targets wouldn't be bunched together.

Whatever the possibility of dispersion or going underground, the facts are that neither people nor plants are moving many miles of jumping into cities.

That emphasizes the importance of disaster relief in cities that might get hit.

An A-bomb not only would wreck buildings but power, water, gas and transportation lines. There would be tremendous fires, debris and glass, and probably thousands of dead and injured.

So government authorities recommend duplicate or reserve facilities wherever possible, and putting hospitals and fire stations around the outskirts.

Finding a place for shelters in a congested city would be difficult, they say, and first priority should be given to installing them in buildings.

Some Suggestions
If you want suggestions, the government has some:

Pick fireproof, reinforced concrete or steel frame buildings that are resistant to collapse. Lower floors or basements, toward the interior of the building, usually offer the best protection against blast, radiation, glass and debris. In something about the hazards of falling fixtures and plaster and inflammable materials. Make sure there are at least two exits.

Surround the area with 12 inches of reinforced concrete. With the added thickness of outside walls, that should be enough to guard against radiation from a blast half a mile away. In an exposed spot, 21 inches of concrete would be needed.

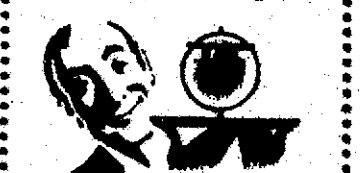

The experts can give you some tips if you're interested in doing serious new buildings to resist blast and in strengthening and repairing the dangers in present buildings. They suggest, for instance, that you use glass reinforced with wire, or perhaps plastic instead of glass.

But it all adds up to the idea there is no complete safety from an atomic attack.

That puts the pressure on the diplomats to work for peace.

WAYWARD "OSCAR"—Los Angeles aircraft worker Bruce Kierman, 20, is the holder of an "Oscar," but he didn't win it for acting. Kierman found the coveted statuette about nine years ago. Despite demands of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences to surrender the statuette, Kierman held onto it, and every year around Academy Award time he wonders who lost or threw away his "Oscar."

Mule and Camel Steaks
Tel Aviv, Israel (AP)—The Israeli diet is skimpy and monotonous features frozen fish as the main entrée—but even that's better than horse, mule or camel steaks. Zvi Telman, an official of the inspection department of the ministry of supply and rationing, says that's what Israelis often get when they buy "meat" in the black market. Israeli law permits meat to be sold in rationed and strictly limited quantities three days weekly. But for many Israelis, even though a black marketeer is hard to find in this country, they still prefer to get some of the "meat" he offers for sale.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

New York, March 29 (AP)—The auto and oil industries are talking today of something really new in engines—in combustion type engines, that is, not the new-fangled jet.

The new engine could revolutionize these industries. It could save you many dollars on your gasoline bill. It could stretch the nation's oil reserves—by extracting from each barrel of crude oil perhaps 50 per cent more miles in car transportation on the highways.

The engine is still in the testing stage, and its fond daddy, the Texaco Development Corp., is reluctant to talk about it yet publicly. But, on inquiry, chief engineers of the project predict that before too long now, this combustion engine will be utilizing a swirl of air to:

1. Burn any octane number or octane number fuel, from gasoline and kerosene to diesel oil or alcohol, without knocking;

2. Give you up to 30 per cent more miles per gallon of fuel, and a further saving in the choice of the cheaper fuels (New York taxi operators alone might save as much as $2 million a year on their gasoline bills);

3. Lessen the current pressure on the motor industry on the oil front to produce ever higher octane gasoline, and let voltmeters produce fuels at the least cost to themselves;

4. Stretch the nation's oil resources, by making 15 per cent more of a barrel of crude oil usable for motor vehicle fuel; and this, with the more miles per gallon, would mean that a car that now goes 315 miles on the gasoline extracted from one barrel of crude could go 470 miles with all the kinds of fuel which a barrel of oil would provide for the new motor.

Would Help in War
The new idea in combustion engines, Texaco says, would provide greater safety in marine engine operation by using the least volatile of the fuels. Too, in time of war, it would give the army, air force and navy the chance to place one type of fuel at advances bases, available alike to tanks, jet planes, trucks and jeeps, and perhaps even to submarines.

All of this, you understand, when and if the engine gets into mass production. At present it's a single cylinder test model in Texaco's laboratory at Beacon, N. Y. Engineers are preparing a multiple cylinder model for road tests early next year.

Officials of the company don't say so, but it is understood that one of the largest of the auto companies is seriously considering the engine's mass production possibilities. General commercial use would still be a matter of years, probably.

Meanwhile, don't count out the other engines yet. Proponents of still higher compression engines insist there is a better solution than Texaco's for more economical driving. And the British in a couple of weeks will display in New York an auto powered by a gas turbine engine, something like turbo-prop planes.

The principle of the Texaco combustion process engine is the use of an air swirl in the cylinder to induce almost instantaneous spark ignition of the fuel. This does the same thing that high octane gasoline does in a gas engine, eliminating the knocking, or auto-ignition of the end gas at the greatest distance from the spark plug. The air swirl also does the same thing that high octane fuel does in the Diesel engine, eliminating the knocking, or delayed ignition of the fuel-air mixture as it undergoes compression.

This means, the engineers say, that the Texaco combustion engine will operate with a mixture of fuel and air too lean for spark ignition in the ordinary gasoline engine, and too rich for Diesel operation without smoke. Thus it spans the range of gasoline and Diesel engines, as well as the gap between.

Other advantages which Texaco men cite include the elimination of the use of lead to eliminate knocking, and the corrosion and deposit difficulties they say go with it. They add that the engine offers no problems of smoke or smell. It will be about the same size and weight as the present engines, requiring no design change

Investigator Found Guilty
Riverhead, N. Y., March 30 (AP)—A suspended State Labor Department investigator yesterday was found guilty of accepting $35 in bribes from employers guilty of violating wage-hour regulations. The investigator, Sgt. Kaplan, 40, of Queens, was found guilty by a jury in Suffolk County Court. Judge D. Ormonde Ritchie set April 19 for sentencing and continued Kaplan's $1,000 bail. During the trial Kaplan contended he received the money from two restaurant proprietors for accounting services he performed on his own time.

It's State Tax Time and Period Of Woe for Bureau Workers

Albany, N. Y., March 30 (AP)—State income tax officials gathered recklessly today at the bureau's crystal ball, shuddered deeply, and braced themselves for the inevitable.

Predicting receipts before April 15 of about 4,000,000 returns, a department spokesman said these things "surely will come to pass."

A Syracuse taxpayer will send

Do You Remember

SOPHIE MILLER

No, doubt many remember "Hotel Kaaterskill" in our Catskill Mts. E. Boardley of Lucas avenue sent me the magazine they used to put out for these guests back in the 1880's. In showing these items to Dr. Sam Stern, whose optometrist firm was established in 1860 in Rondout, often adds his vast knowledge to the items I show him. He said, he heard how it came about that Hotel Kaaterskill was built. A wealthy man wanted to build a hotel in the Catskills, one morning and being the place in which he was a guest said it wasn't on their breakfast menu, he said he would build his own hotel, so that he could get what he wanted for breakfast and that's how the famous old hotel came about to be built. Who remembers more about that incident?

As Pegler Sees It

clamorous propaganda for "conversion" and "looking up" come back dimly out of memory. The New Deal had created unions and driven millions of citizens into them, and this was called a "labor movement." But it had not received private industry. The rich magnates of the unions, grateful for the concession granted them freely to exploit these millions and to exploit the "danger" to "democracy," spent money lavishly to whip up the anger and fear of the people. Remember the Political Action Committee? The Teamsters' Dinner? Unemployment was big again in 1941, but as the "war effort" became not quite total but certainly predominant and overtime and mock-work sent wages to inflationary heights, the debt went up and up until thought of the future and the reckoning was put out of mind except by a few practical individuals who seemed morose amid the excitement. Roosevelt, haters, no doubt. Pro-Nazis, no doubt. Red-baiters, spreading disunity.

in part of an old gray shirt—90 per cent of it, to be exact.

A Buffalo resident will use his pink income tax bureau return envelope to send in a stack of assorted newspaper clippings. He's been doing it for years.

Six taxpayers will pay their tax in pennies, nickels and dimes.

Approximately 15,000 persons will forget to enclose payments with their returns.

The bureau will receive about 1,500 checks made payable to mail order houses, public utilities, department stores and other concerns.

The assorted business firms will receive the checks intended for the tax bureau. Blame this on the "envelope-switchers."

April 15 is the deadline for the filing of returns. They must be submitted by:

1. A single person who had a net income and a net capital gain of $1,000 or more during 1949.
2. Married persons who, together, had net income and net capital gain of $2,500 or more.

The tax rate is the same as last year—90 per cent of the statutory rate. This means that you figure your tax on the printed forms already distributed by the State Tax Department, then deduct 10 per cent.

If your income was solely from compensation as an employee, or from dividends or interest, or a combination of the two, you may use the simplified return, known as (Form) 200. The bureau hopes you use that form if you are eligible.

The bureau estimates that about 90,000 taxpayers will forget to deduct the 10 per cent from the full statutory rate. On April 15, most of these people will discover their overpayment, and demand immediate refund.

Approximately 500,000 taxpayers will forget to put their social security number on their returns. The bureau says that's "nearly as important in the tax accounting department as the taxpayer's name."

Three delinquent returns will arrive a few days after the April 15 deadline. All will have similar explanations:

"We forgot all about this on the 15th because we were having a baby."

But the tax bureau expects some cheery notes too.

Some returns will be accompanied by notes expressing appreciation for "democracy" and "our fine state government."

About five citizens will send payments, although they don't owe anything. They just want to contribute.

Three others will send anonymous "conscience fund" payments. They want to square something from the past.

There are more than 6000 mines in 30 states of the Union, producing an average of 500,000,000 tons of coal annually.

for landlords who can show actual "out-of-pocket" losses and to relieve "gross inequalities" in cases where rents do not conform with comparable accommodations.

The rent administrator will draw a detailed plan for extension or modification of the state control program and submit it to the 1951 Legislature for approval.

Dewey criticized the Democratic bill because, he said, it "provides for no chance for the Legislature to approve or disapprove the acts of the administrator."

The governor noted that both the Republican and Democratic bills would be effective May 1, and that "both authorize reduction of rents where essential services or equipment are denied to tenants."

He said a major difference in the bills was in the freezing of rents.

He declared:

"The Republican bill provides an absolute freeze of rents until next year with two small exceptions."

"One, where the landlord and tenant freely and voluntarily agree to an increase because the tenant wants new services, such as a refrigerator or the like. Even then the agreement must be approved by the rent administrator.

"Secondly, the administrator may allow increases after Dec. 1 if the landlord can prove he is operating the property at a severe loss."

Even then the landlord must prove he is maintaining essential services and a hearing must be given to both parties."

Dewey said the Democratic bill would have given "broad powers to the (three) rent administrators to increase rents immediately on May 1, if the landlord shows substantial hardship from increases in taxes, operating costs or major capital improvements, even though he is still making a profit."

He contended:

"An avalanche of applications for rent increases would hit the new commission on May 1 under the Democratic bill."

The governor also criticized the Democratic proposal to administer rent control through a three-member commission.

"I cannot think of anything worse," Dewey declared. He maintained:

"If you want a job done you put one man in charge, not a committee. The public has a right to know who is responsible."

Dewey said the Democratic bill "purports to roll back rents to the levels paid in March, 1949. But in the same breath it authorizes the immediate increase of rents on a large number of grounds."

Private Bus Lines Ask Cent Fare Increase

New York, March 30 (AP)—Four of New York city's privately-owned bus lines, which carry some 1,250,000 passengers daily, have applied for an immediate one-cent fare increase.

The companies, which operate in Manhattan and Queens, also asked the City's Board of Estimate yesterday to consider future rate increases above the proposed one-cent rise.

The companies now charge a seven-cent fare. This has been in effect since December, 1948.

The applications for increases came two days after Gov. Thomas E. Dewey signed a bill giving the city sole jurisdiction over fares on the private lines here.

Mayor William O'Dwyer has asked the Board of Estimate to approve a committee to handle fare-fixing.

The mayor repeatedly has said he opposes any further fare boosts, but he says the special committee would give full consideration to any appeals.

Companies filing applications yesterday were the New York City Omnibus Corporation, including two subsidiaries, the Avenue B-East Broadway Transit Corporation, in lower Manhattan; and the Steinway Omnibus Corporation and the Queens-Nassau Transit Lines, both in Queens.

by restraining straps, Chew said.

Most of the patients from the wing and other sections of the L-shaped building died in their nightclothes. They were housed temporarily in other buildings of the sanatorium and nearby hospitals.

There was some hysteria but no panic, said Police Chief Andrew J. White of Springfield township, one of the first officials to arrive on the scene.

"Nurses and attendants did a wonderful job of quieting the patients," he said.

Chew told of how Mrs. Theresa Shaw, 38, an off duty nurse, refused to leave the women's section until the last of the patients had been helped through the windows.

"She crawled on her stomach alongside me," said the fire marshal, "directing the firemen to the patients in the small private rooms. Not once did she get excited and not until the last patient had been evacuated would she leave."

Mrs. Shaw, employed at the sanatorium for the last nine months, returned from her day off just as the firemen arrived.

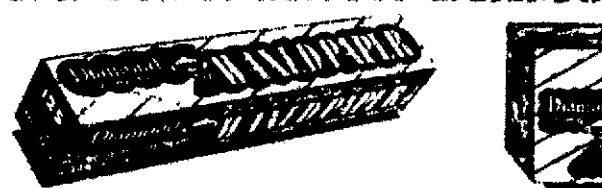

The blaze was discovered by four male patients watching a television show in a first floor recreation room. They said they felt the heat around their ankles. A search led to the blaze in the basement, where the boilers and laundry are located.

Color Television Nearer Reality, But Is Not Perfect

New York, March 30 (AP)—The Radio Corporation of America's tri-color picture tube appeared today to have brought color television for the general public closer—but still some time away.

RCA board Chairman David Sarnoff described the new tube as the master key to practical color television following a demonstration in Washington yesterday.

The tube did inject a new element into the Federal Communications Commission's hearing on various color television systems to determine whether color video is ready for the public.

The principal competitors at the hearing have been RCA and the Columbia Broadcasting System. CBS produces color through use of a whirling color disc in front of the camera and one in front of the picture tube of the receiving set. RCA previously had used three separate color tubes to produce an all-color image, resulting in a bulky set, but used an all-electronic method without any mechanical moving parts.

Broadcasts using the RCA system can be received as black and white pictures on present sets without any alteration what ever. CBS color broadcasts require alteration of the set even for black and white reception.

By the use of a single tube producing a full color picture by electronic methods, RCA was able yesterday to show color sets practically the same size as conventional black and white sets.

Sarnoff, however, said his view on color remained between the extremes of CBS' statement it was ready now and Dr. Allen B. DuRoi's prediction that it remained nine or more years in the future. He said he believed "more work remains to be done even with our own system before it can be offered for sale to the public as a commercial product."

A neutral manufacturer, General Electric, president of Emerson Radio and Phonograph Corp., today described the tube as "a step toward practical color television for the public."

But Abrams said it was his opinion that even with the new tube, it may take three or four years before reasonably priced sets are available for the public. If a start was to be made now, he said a color set probably would cost two or three times as much as a black and white set, and he predicted it would be some time before color sets could be brought within reach of the average customer.

Abrams predicted further that even after color arrived, black and white sets would continue to be bought by many persons because of their lower cost.

As described by RCA, the new color tube contains a fine metal screen with 117,000 holes. This picture screen is a sort of mosaic containing tiny dots in triangular groups of three—one red, one green and one blue. As now constructed the tube face contains 251,000 of these dots although the number presumably could be increased later to give a picture with finer detail.

As the electronic beam that "paints" a picture on the tube face passes through each hole in the screen it is deflected to the proper color dot, red, blue or green.

LEPER MISSION BEGINS—Navy doctor Gordon C. McNelly, with his daughter, Miriam, 4, left Alameda, Calif., bound for an 18-month tour of duty in the leper colony on Tinian Island. Dr. McNelly volunteered for the hazardous assignment because he felt it his "Christian duty." Also accompanying him were his wife and another daughter, 4 months old.

Blames Nationalists For Red China Advance

Lake Success, March 30 (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt said yesterday that support for Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist Chinese government "seems futile."

But argument over support or non-support of the Nationalists also seems futile, she added. That is a question for the Chinese people to decide.

Mrs. Roosevelt spoke at a luncheon of the United Nations Correspondents Association. Though chairman of the U.N. Commission on Human Rights and an American delegate at every U.N. General Assembly, she said she spoke yesterday as a private citizen.

Later she amplified her comments on the China question in a written statement.

"The Nationalist Government was given an opportunity to form a representative government," she said. "The Chinese people, she said, 'They did not do it.'"

"The Communist results (in China) are largely based on the weaknesses of the Nationalist government," she said.

Mrs. Roosevelt said she did not believe the Russians, now boycotting U.N. organs because they give seats to Nationalist Chinese delegates, would walk out of the U.N. for good.

The Soviets, she added, were glad to have such an excuse two days ago when they walked out of the Human Rights Commission, she heads. The Russians did not want a covenant on human rights, she declared.

Knaust Is Cleared

defendant desired counsel assigned.

Twenty sealed bills were reported and there were three dismissals. Sealed indictments were transferred by order of the court to county court for disposition.

Justice Harry E. Schrick continued the grand jury in session stating that because of a "situation" which now exists it was deemed wise to continue the grand jury subject to call of the district attorney. Jurors were excused until next week Friday when they will report even though they may not be called into session sooner by the district attorney.

It was stated the "situation" was the existing strike in the Knaust mushroom plants and the possibility of grand jury investigation of any acts of violence. Charges of sabotage have been made by company officials following a fire at one of the mushroom caves near Lawrenceville early this week.

In addition to the Warren Knaust dismissal the grand jury reported dismissals of the following case of the People vs. Tracy Slater.

The following were arraigned under open indictments: Richard Yetzer, burglary, third degree, and unlawful entry, alleged to have taken place on Jan. 26, 1950, at Glenview Lake Park where a bungalow was entered. Yetzer entered a plea of innocent and the case was transferred to County Court. Defendant remanded.

George James Schryver Jr., Kingston, burglary, third degree, and unlawful entry to properties in the city and county on Jan. 4, 1950 and Jan. 8, 1950. Schryver said his attorney was Chris J. Planagan. A plea of innocent was entered and the cases transferred to County Court. Defendant remanded.

Indicted for Burglary

Wilson Van Vliet of Chambers street, Kingston, was indicted for burglary, third degree, and unlawful entry on the same dates, it being alleged he was involved in the same affairs as Schryver. A plea of innocent was entered and the cases transferred to County Court. William A. Kaercher represents Van Vliet. Defendant remanded to jail.

Edward L. Trinkle, Jr., Murray street, Kingston, charged with burglary, third degree, and unlawful entry for the alleged entrance to the McGill garage on Broadway last Nov. 25. He pleaded innocent, said William A. Kaercher represented him and his case was transferred to County Court and he was remanded to custody of Sheriff Smith.

Eugene Francis Smith, Kingston, burglary, third degree, and unlawful entry alleged to have been committed on Nov. 25, 1949. He entered a plea of innocent and said Joseph Avis represented him. Case transferred to county court. Defendant remanded.

Henry Stokley, East Kingston, charged with assault, third degree, alleged to have been committed upon his wife on Feb. 4, 1950. Plea of innocent entered. Charles Gaffney appears for defendant. Case transferred to County Court. Defendant remanded.

Clinton Johnnie Saunders, assault, first degree, alleged to have been committed on February 5, at the Smiley property when one Auchmoody was shot at with a shotgun. Plea of innocent entered. Robert Ortale appears for defendant. Case transferred to county court. Defendant remanded.

Paul Leach and Earl Cobb, Kingston, charged with burglary, third degree, and unlawful entry to a restaurant on Canal street, Kingston, on December 27, 1949. They are also in the same bill charged with grand larceny, second degree. Plea of innocent entered. Case transferred to county court for assignment of counsel and trial. Remanded.

Archie Lee Smith, Kingston, charged with assault, second degree, in two counts for an alleged assault on Corrie Hogan on January 25, 1950. Plea of innocent entered. Transferred to county court for assignment of counsel and trial. Remanded.

Russell A. Bell and Ivan Sprague, Delaware county residents, were indicted in three indictments for forgery, second degree. There were two counts in each bill. The dates on which the alleged forgeries were committed are January 23, 1950, November 18, 1949 and December 31, 1949. The charges arose out of Ellenville transactions. Plea of innocent was entered. The cases were transferred to county court for trial and assignment of counsel and the defendants were remanded to jail.

Joe Yule Dies

North Hollywood, Calif., March 30 (AP)—Joe Yule, veteran showman father of Actor Mickey Rooney, died at his home today following a heart attack. He was 61. Yule's second wife, Leta, their two young adopted children, Jerry and Mary Jean, and Rooney were at his bedside when death came. So was Fred Pankey, Mickey's stepfather. Yule, who was born in Edinburgh, Scotland and began his theatrical career at the age of 13, recently had returned here after appearing with a stock company's presentation of "Finian's Rainbow." Previously he had appeared in several "Muggie and Jiggs" pictures.

Swartzmiller Will Help Businesses

Albany, N. Y., March 30 (AP)—Thirteen specialists of the State Commerce Department will serve as counselors to small businessmen interested in sharing Marshall Plan business.

The department said yesterday the counselors had been appointed by Bert H. White, a special assistant in the Economic Cooperation Administration at Washington.

Harold Keller, state commerce commissioner, reported "a great demand" by small businessmen in the state for "detailed information and specialized business services connected with E.C.A. purchasing."

Department staff members appointed to handle Marshall Plan duties in addition to their regular work are:

John C. Beatty, director of the Bureau of Industry in Albany; William J. Russell, director of the department's New York city office; and Regional Office Managers John S. Wyld of Albany, city early next week.

Donald J. Horn of Binghamton, James A. Pray of Buffalo, Waldo J. Elman of Elmira, W. Dale Swartzmiller of Kingston, John F. Deming of Mineola, Frank C. Chapman of Ogdensburg, John D. Smith of Rochester, Raymond G. Castle of Syracuse, Otto S. Webster of Utica and Harold F. Delancy of White Plains.

Tavern Destroyed

A fire at 3:30 o'clock this morning completely destroyed the Rosie Tavern just east of Route 9W in the village of Conenot. Cause of the fire was unknown. The frame structure housed a tavern and store on the ground floor and rooms on the upper floor. Loss was estimated at from $15,000 to $20,000.

Aerial Truck Is on Way

Flue Chief Joseph L. Murphy said today he had received word that the new aerial truck for Wick station is now en route to this city. The truck has been shipped from the plant of Peter Pirsch & Sons Co., Kenosha, Wis., and is expected to arrive in the city early next week.

Food Prices Hold Close to Levels Of Last Week in Big Markets

By The Associated Press

Food prices held close to the levels of last week-end in major marketing centers this week.

Changes in meat, poultry and dairy items were too slight and irregular to show a trend pattern.

Lettuce, tomatoes and cucumbers edged upward in most places. Wholesalers said spring-like weather spreading over large areas of the country was stimulating consumer demand for these principal salad vegetables.

Broccoli, cauliflower, celery, peas, peppers and spinach were a little lower as shipments increased.

Onion prices were weak following last week's severe drop in the wholesale market, and the Agriculture Department was preparing to cooperate with growers and distributors in an intensive onion promotion campaign next month to help move anticipated heavy supplies.

Harvesting of the spring onion crop in south Texas already is under way, at least two weeks earlier than usual. The spring average in that area is more than double the 1949 harvested average, the department said, and largest since the record in 1926. With stocks of storage onions already burdensome and the new crop coming, onions are expected to be on the most-plentiful food list for many weeks to come.

New potatoes are in about the same position as new onions previously, said Merrill Thomas, Agriculture Department marketing specialist. If the weather gets markedly warmer soon, consumers will turn to them and prices probably will strengthen, he said, but if cold weather returns their prices might go lower to compete with storage stocks.

Orange Crop Hit

Speaking of weather, recent low temperatures in central and northern California damaged 72 per cent of the 1950 crop of Valencia oranges, the Orange Administrative Committee reported at Lindsay, Calif. It estimated that only about 1,700 cars will be marketed from a possible 6,000-car crop.

The first oranges from the Israeli area in about 19 years were sold on the Atlantic seaboard this week. Traders on the fruit auction markets in New York said they were very similar to Valencias and brought prices that compared very favorably with quotations for Florida fruit. A test shipment of good quality lemons from Israel had a less favorable market response because their appearance was not as good as American offerings, these sources added.

Plentiful Foods

The Agriculture Department's production and marketing division headlined these foods on its plentiful list for April: Apples, canned peaches, dried prunes, raisins, beets, cabbage, carrots, onions, potatoes, canned corn, canned lima beans and dry beans.

Also, eggs, broilers, fryers, hens, butter, cheese, evaporated milk, nonfat dry milk, cottage cheese, fresh and frozen fish and pork and pork products.

The Dun & Bradstreet wholesale food price index this week held unchanged from a week ago at $5.79 and was a shade higher than the year-ago level of $5.77. The figure represents the total wholesale cost of one pound each of 31 foods in general use.

Investor Forum

by Harry C. France

America is entering an economic period when the demand for "blue chips" (the best stocks in the country) is to be unprecedented. It will be a period during which millions of inexperienced investors will become acquainted with many of our leading corporations.

This demand will come from many directions. Mutual funds and investment trusts are all the rage just now. This is a noteworthy situation of for no other reason than that investors with a few hundred or a few thousand dollars will get their savings capital tied into enterprises of the first magnitude.

Today, salesmen who ring doorbells and offer small investors a participation in a sound diversification of common shares are rendering a good service. Such a corporation as American Telephone and Telegraph—with a long record of dividend payments—has around 300,000 stockholders. There are a score of other large corporations whose shares should be more widely held. And, thanks to the merchandizing skills of managers of mutual funds and investment trusts, in the coming decade great numbers of investors will come to know of these enterprises through ownership.

The State of Massachusetts and the State of New York (where investment wisdom and experience are fairly sound) are about to pass legislation aimed to liberalize the investment policies of trustees and of those bound down by legal restrictions. I think this is only the beginning. Massachusetts and New York may well spearhead such a movement.

What will this mean? That trustees, formerly required to buy low-yielding bonds by the very nature of their work, can buy "blue chips." I can see in the immediate years ahead a very large demand for the best chemical, oil, motor, insurance and bank shares. It could be that the decade 1950-1960 will record a tremendous price surge in these equities because of this.

Then, too, America is not yet fully awake to the economic inadequacies of low interest rates. Every event that helps to popularize common stocks will throw the spotlight on the weakness of cheap money. If I were a security sales manager, as I was years ago, I would give frequent talks to my salesmen in which I would show them where an American investor, saving $1,000 a year, would be in 1949 after following two programs for 10 years—1940-49 inclusive.

The first program would be set up on an interest base—$10,000 saved and invested in high grade bonds yielding from 2 per cent to 3 per cent a year. The second program would be based on growing equities. To be specific, I would show what $10,000 invested in American Can, Du Pont, Eastman Kodak, Union Carbide and Carbon, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Texas Corporation, Guaranty Trust Company of New York, General Electric, General Motors and General Foods would have produced.

Between now and 1960 America should "grow" 10,000,000 additional stockholders. If the sound and marketable wealth of this great nation were to be properly distributed, this would be easy. And I think we are on the way. As I have said previously, when a mutual fund or an investment trust salesman gets $500 of good merchandise in the hands of a small investor, he is doing a fine thing for his client and for the country.

What are "blue chips" for if not to allow the average investor to participate in the profits and growth of mighty America?

Goldwyn Friend Dies

Gloversville, N. Y., March 30 (AP)—Jacob Litig, a glove-maker who raised funds that helped Film Producer Sam Goldwyn, came to America 54 years ago, died last night. He was 85. Litig, like Goldwyn, was a native of Warsaw, Poland. The two were acquainted there. They met again in Hamburg, Germany, after young Goldwyn ran away from home. Litig took up a collection to help pay Goldwyn's fare to London. The latter reached the United States in 1896, at the age of 14. The film magnate, a former resident of Gloversville, told the story on a visit here in 1945.

Communities May Post Different Speed Limits

Albany, N. Y., March 30 (AP)—Cities and villages now may post different speed limits for various areas within their municipal boundaries.

They previously were required to fix the same limit for all areas. The change was authorized in a bill signed yesterday by Governor Dewey.

Dewey also approved a measure aimed at requiring installation of electric directional signals on all motor vehicles manufactured after Jan. 1, 1952, and licensed in New York state.

The bill permitting varying speed limits in cities and villages was supported by the State Traffic Commission. The commission contended that different speeds should be fixed for heavily populated areas, such as business districts, and for the outskirts of a city or village.

Scottish industry is centered in the Edinburgh-Glasgow area.

Will Ship Powdered Items

New York, March 30 (AP)—"Massive shipments" of government surplus powdered milk and eggs to the people of West Berlin is planned by the International Refugee Committee. The committee said yesterday it hopes to ship 200,000 pounds of the food items for delivery in Berlin before May 27, the date set for a Soviet youth parade into the western sector.

The committee, which is seeking contributions for the "Project Berlin," said the food shipments would strengthen the psychological resistance of West Berliners to the "planned Communist invasion."

Central Hudson Stockholders Hold Annual Meeting

The stockholders of the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation Wednesday held their annual meeting at the Executive Offices of the corporation at South Road in Poughkeepsie.

A slate of directors to serve until the next annual meeting was elected unanimously. The new board of directors includes: Ernest R. Acker, president and general manager of Central Hudson; Peter Cantline, Newburgh attorney; Harris E. Dexter, Central Hudson vice-president in charge of commercial relations; Robert S. MacGuinness, Central Hudson vice-president in charge of operations; Edward E. Perkins, Poughkeepsie attorney; Robert R. Rodie, president of Rodie Coal Company, Inc., Kingston Coal Company, Inc., and North River Coal Company, all of Kingston; William W. Smith 2nd, president of Smith Brothers, Inc., Poughkeepsie; Alva S. Staples, brick manufacturer of Kingston; and John Wilkie, Central Hudson vice-president and treasurer.

In reviewing the year 1949, President Ernest R. Acker stated that plans were progressing favorably for financing the company's expansion program which will cost approximately $24,100,000 during 1950 through 1952. In 1949, through sale of $2,000,000 of preferred stock and $6,000,000 of convertible debenture bonds, the company paid off its short-term bond borrowing and provided funds to carry its program into 1950. The conversion of the debentures, Mr. Acker said, will provide the additional equity required to assure the financing of the balance of the expansion program on a sound basis. It is expected that this will be accomplished by the sale of additional preferred stock and mortgage bonds.

Approximately $12,100,000 will be spent to build the first 60,000 kilowatt unit at the new Danshammer Point steam generating station on the Hudson north of Newburgh. Another $2,300,000 will be spent on the 25,000 kilowatt hydroelectric plant at Nevinsink Tunnel now under construction for the New York city aqueduct system. Upon completion, these projects will increase the company's electric generating capacity from 22,000 kilowatts at present to a total of 107,000 kilowatts by the end of 1952, and enable it to produce 80 per cent of its power output. By contrast, Central Hudson in 1949 purchased 90 per cent of its output for its regular customers from outside sources. The company will also spend nearly $2,000,000 to construct a 40-mile natural gas pipeline from Tuxedo, N. Y., on the Columbia Gas pipeline system to terminate via two 8-inch mains under the Hudson, at its main gas works at Poughkeepsie.

Baboons Menace Phones

Bahr El Ghazal, Sudan (AP)—Running a telephone system in this wild and remote part of Africa has its own little problems. Cross fires have been melting the wires on a new line, and baboons have been stealing the insulator nuts securing the insulator arms to the poles.

Swept Into Tunnel

East Aurora, N. Y., March 30 (AP)—The flood waters of Tannery brook swept eight-year-old Patrick Joseph Kelly into a tunnel under Main street. Patrick came out 300 feet away, bumped against a large rock, grabbed some tree roots and pulled himself out. "Mother, I thought I'd never see you again," he told Mrs. Joseph Kelly after the ordeal yesterday.

Indiana has about 51 miles frontage on Lake Michigan.

Top Communist Bagged

Seoul, March 30 (AP)—Police bagged the top Communist of South Korea on President Syngman Rhee's 75th birthday. The arrest Sunday of Lee Choo Haw, 47, leader of the Red underground, was disclosed today. Police said Kim Sam Ryong, 42, second in command, was arrested two days later. They said 13 Red leaders in all were nabbed. The specific charge on which they were jailed was not reported.

Budget Is Submitted

Seoul, Korea, March 30 (AP)—President Syngman Rhee today submitted to the National Assembly a $11,000,000,000 budget for the fiscal year beginning Saturday. Twenty-five billion won (about $27,000,000) was for national defense. Officially the U. S. dollar buys 900 to 950 won. Illegal exchange rate is twice as much.

300 Attend Men's Annual Service

Approximately 300 men attended the recent annual communion service and supper of the Federation of Protestant Men's Clubs at the St. James Methodist Church. A Virginia baked ham supper followed the service in the church dining room.

Assemblyman Orlo M. Brees of Endicott was the principal speaker who talked on the topic, "One-Derful World."

In his talk the legislator said "Today, in the world there are many clever wordsmiths who would place different meanings on the simplest words."

He spoke of the physical, material and spiritual worlds all having a common denominator—God. "Through Him," he said, "all are inter-related." The speaker touched on all forms of matter having a common denominator—the atom, which contains two opposites, the negative and the positive, two unities making for unity or "oneness."

He added, "Unity lies in differences, not uniformity. This unity might be called the duality of oneness which makes this a 'one-derful world.'"

The Rev. Nelson C. Munson, interim pastor of the First Baptist Church spoke on "Spiritual Capabilities" during the communion portion of the service. The Rev. William R. Peckham minister of the Clinton Avenue Methodist Church, conducted the service assisted by several ministers from other churches.

Easter's the day for the family's fill of ice cream, the glamorous dairy food. Set it forth, sundae-style, with a galaxy of sauces . . . the more the merrier.

Some may come right from their jars or containers, juicy frozen berries, favorite canned fruits, maple syrup, honey, sweetened condensed milk, cream, and you can add one or more special ice cream sauces made a day in advance.

Then all that's needed to crown your Easter dinner with success is ice cream in two or three flavors from your neighborhood store.

Chocolate Nut Sauce

(Makes about 1½ cups)

Three squares (3 ounces) unsweetened chocolate, ½ cup water, 3 tablespoons butter, ¼ cup sugar, 1 egg yolk, ¼ cup nut milk.

Melt chocolate in water over low heat. Add butter, sugar and salt. Cook slowly, stirring until smooth. Remove from heat; add salt, almond extract and nutmeats.

Maple Butterscotch Sauce

(Makes about 1½ cups)

One cup double-strength coffee (cold), 2 tablespoons cornstarch, ¼ teaspoon salt, ½ cup maple flavored syrup, ½ cup brown sugar, 3 tablespoons butter.

Mix cornstarch to a paste with ¼ cup of the coffee. Add remaining coffee and heat over very low flame, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens. Stir in salt, syrup and brown sugar; boil gently five minutes, stirring occasionally. Remove from heat and stir in butter. Cool.

Pineapple Sundae Sauce

(Makes about 1½ cups)

One and one-half tablespoons cornstarch, ½ cup sugar, 1 cup crushed pineapple, ¼ cup water, 1 tablespoon lemon juice.

Combine cornstarch and sugar in saucepan; stir in pineapple and water. Heat, stirring constantly, until mixture boils. Continue boiling until clear. Chill, add lemon juice.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Baked apples, oatmeal, hot cross buns, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Fish chowder, crackers, cole slaw, warm ginger bread with applesauce, tea, milk.

DINNER: Tomato juice, corn souffle, crisp bacon, quick cabbage, hot buttered rolls, raw carrot sticks, prune pie with cream cheese topping, coffee, milk.

One Way to Do It

New York, March 30 (AP)—When the Bronx Zoo's 418-pound gorilla, Makoko, developed athlete's foot, his keepers wondered how to treat him. They couldn't go into his cage — too dangerous. So they rigged up a squirt gun that shot an ointment through the bars and onto the beast's infected foot. Dr. Leonard J. Geas, zoo veterinarian, said Makoko is coming along fine; his athlete's foot is 90 per cent cured.

Grange News

Asbury Program

Asbury Grange, Saugerties, aptly celebrated its annual "Youth Night" last Monday, March 27th, at the Grange Hall, by having as its guests four members of the Saxton 4-H Home-making Club.

In charge of Mrs. George Salie, who exhibited their work of stencil designs on fabrics. Elinore Lasher described the utensils necessary before stenciling is actually begun and explained the use of every article. Hannah-Jane Gann then talked on the various kinds of fabrics on which stenciling could be done. She was followed by Carolyn Fedeschi who demonstrated how stencils are cut out before the actual work of designing is begun. Dorothy Lasher then did the actual work of explaining each step as she undertook to stencil such designs on various pieces of fabric. The children were given a rousing round of applause at the end of their demonstration.

Brothers Kukuk, Wells, Relyea, Pearson and Salie were then requested to give short talks on "What Can Be Done for the Youth of Our Community." The consensus was that the Grange Hall be opened for the use of boys and girls with a view to starting a Juvenile Grange or a Boy and Girl Scout troop. This matter will be taken up at a subsequent business meeting of the Grange.

A sketch, "Bank Bunk" was then aptly put on by John Carl, as the bank president; Miss Lorraine Carl, as the secretary; Freeman Lasher, as the customer and Walter Stanley, another customer.

An enthusiastic waltz contest was won by Mr. and Mrs. Elvin Wager. Mrs. Lily Compellito, chairman of the service and hospitality committee, announced that the closing date for bread-making contest is April 24 and the dressmaking contest ends May 22. A donation of $5 was made to the Red Cross by the Asbury Grange. All Asbury Grange members, sponsoring candidates for membership, should have their applications in by the next meeting, April 10, with last effective date being April 24.

Hurley Meeting Tonight
A regular meeting of Hurley

Grange is scheduled for tonight at 8 o'clock in the school auditorium, having been moved ahead a week on account of Holy Thursday. There will be a talk by a physician, a skit, and a discussion on old houses and churches of Ulster county.

Early Radio Patent

New York (AP)—The records indicate that what might be termed the "first radio broadcasting patent" in this country was issued to Thomas A. Edison on Dec. 29, 1871. His application, granted as patent No. 465,971, said: "Signaling between distant points can be effected by induction without the use of wires connecting such distant points." This is an apt description of today's method of radio transmission.

stock, were held today at 4 o'clock at the Fresh Pond Crematory, Maspeth, Queens. Mr. Chapman died Monday at his home, 188 East 68th street. Mr. Chapman, who was born in Fort Scott, Kan., was graduated in 1894 from the University of Michigan. He was admitted to the New York State Bar in 1912 and was admitted to practice before the United States Patent Office and the United States Supreme Court. He formerly lectured at Northwestern University Law School and the Alexander Hamilton Institute. He was the author of 18 books, many of which dealt with the legal aspect of advertising. He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Wayne Nelson and a sister, Mrs. Benjamin H. Cheever.

The funeral of Miss Margaret Hamilton was held Wednesday at 9:30 a. m. from the F. Daniel Halloran Funeral Home and at 10 o'clock a solemn Mass of requiem was offered for the repose of her soul at St. Mary's Church by the Very Rev. Msgr. Martin J. Drury, pastor. The Rev. John A. Flaherty was deacon and the Rev. Edward I. Farrelly, sub-deacon. Responses to the Mass were sung by the children's choir under direction of Theodore Ricci, organist. During the Mass Miss Barbara Bruck sang "Pie Jesu." Burial was in St. Mary's Cemetery where Msgr. Drury gave the final blessing assisted by Fathers Flaherty and Farrelly. Bearers were John White, James White, Edward Ross, Walter Murdoch, John Halloran and Harry Healey. During the bereavement, many friends called at the funeral home to pay their respects and offer condolence to sisters of the deceased. A profusion of flowers and Mass cards attested to the esteem in which Miss Hamilton was held by a large number of friends. Among the clergy who called were Msgr. Drury and Fathers Flaherty and Farrelly, who offered prayers for the dead.

Vigilance Demanded London, March 30 (AP)—The House of Lords demanded continued vigilance against communism in British public life last night after Lord Vansittart charged Reds have infiltrated into Britain's pulpits, schoolrooms, radio and government. Without a record vote, Parliament's upper house adopted the Conservative Peer's motion calling for continuing and resolute precautions to protect Britain from Communists in the government.

Quirino Must Rest Manila, March 30 (AP)—President Elpidio Quirino has been ordered to take a complete rest for three months because of an overtaxed heart. Dr. Agorico B. M. Sison, the presidential physician, said today Quirino's condition was not serious. But, he added the President's kidney operation last January in Baltimore combined with the stress of work since his return has overtaxed Quirino's heart.

Helen Elting Missing Helen Elting, 47, of 26 East Union street, was reported missing from her home yesterday. The report at 12:48 p. m. described her as colored, about five feet, four inches tall and weighing about 139 pounds. She wore brown slacks and a blue-green sweater, and the report said she had not been seen since she left home to attend the M.J.M. School.

Body Is Found Riverhead, N. Y., March 30 (AP)—The body of Stanley Kuka, 49, a bartender, was found today in the Peconic river, a short distance from where his hat and wallet were found on the shore. Police ordered a coroner's inquest to determine how he met death.

The Joiners News of Interest to Fraternal Organizations Charles DeWitt Council, 91, J.O.U.A.M., will hold its regular meeting Friday at 8 p. m. at Mechanics Hall, 14 Henry street. All members are requested to attend. A social hour with refreshments will follow.

Gubitchev Held in Cabin Copenhagen, Denmark, March 30 (AP)—Danish police placed Soviet engineer Valentin Gubitchev under virtual cabin arrest today during his brief stay here. Gubitchev, given the chance of leaving the United States after his conviction on espionage charges, was locked in his cabin aboard the Polish liner Batory to prevent anyone meeting him when the vessel docked today. Contrary to usual practice, reporters were barred from boarding the ship for 15 minutes while police turned the key on the Russian. The Batory was due to arrive in Copenhagen only a few hours. The ship is scheduled to arrive in Gdynia, Poland, tomorrow morning.

Vigilance Demanded London, March 30 (AP)—The House of Lords demanded continued vigilance against communism in British public life last night after Lord Vansittart charged Reds have infiltrated into Britain's pulpits, schoolrooms, radio and government. Without a record vote, Parliament's upper house adopted the Conservative Peer's motion calling for continuing and resolute precautions to protect Britain from Communists in the government.

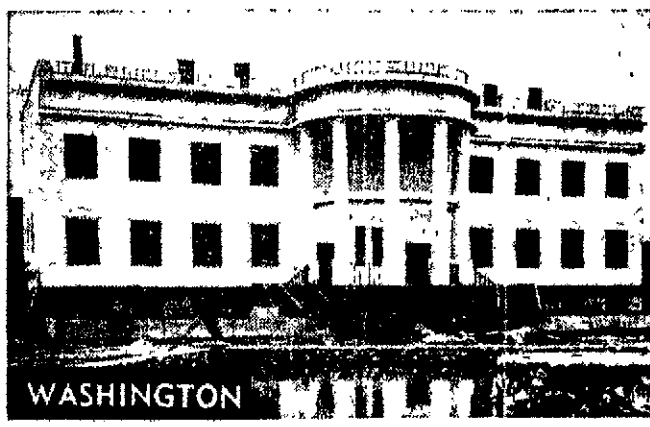

Quirino Must Rest Manila, March 30 (AP)—President Elpidio Quirino has been ordered to take a complete rest for three months because of an overtaxed heart. Dr. Agorico B. M. Sison, the presidential physician, said today Quirino's condition was not serious. But, he added the President's kidney operation last January in Baltimore combined with the stress of work since his return has overtaxed Quirino's heart.

Helen Elting Missing Helen Elting, 47, of 26 East Union street, was reported missing from her home yesterday. The report at 12:48 p. m. described her as colored, about five feet, four inches tall and weighing about 139 pounds. She wore brown slacks and a blue-green sweater, and the report said she had not been seen since she left home to attend the M.J.M. School.

Body Is Found Riverhead, N. Y., March 30 (AP)—The body of Stanley Kuka, 49, a bartender, was found today in the Peconic river, a short distance from where his hat and wallet were found on the shore. Police ordered a coroner's inquest to determine how he met death.

The Joiners News of Interest to Fraternal Organizations Charles DeWitt Council, 91, J.O.U.A.M., will hold its regular meeting Friday at 8 p. m. at Mechanics Hall, 14 Henry street. All members are requested to attend. A social hour with refreshments will follow.

Decries Motor Manners

New York, March 30 (AP)—"Motor manners" are a greater menace than drunken drivers, says New York State Motor Vehicle Commissioner Clifford J. Fletcher. A majority of fatal accidents in the state last year were "traceable to impatience, discourtesy and sheer recklessness," he said in a speech yesterday at a meeting of the Greater New York Safety Council. The commissioner said commercial vehicle operators are the best-mannered of all drivers. The meeting was held in conjunction with New York's 20th annual safety convention and exposition.

Epidemic Hits College

New London, Conn., March 30 (AP)—Connecticut College for Women today was ordered closed because of an epidemic of illness which Dr. Lillian Warnshuis, college physician, said was due to a virus infection. A college spokesman said about 100 students were stricken, added that the closing was a "precautionary measure."

Seize Fourth Ship

Taipei, Formosa, March 30 (AP)—Pressing their blockade of Red China ports, the Chinese Nationalists have seized at least four and possibly five foreign ships. The steamer Tai Chung Shan, flying the British flag, was forced into Quemoy, nearby Nationalist island, March 23. Three foreign ships are tied up in Keelung (Taipei), southwestern Formosa port.

Leon Blum Dies In France at 77

Paris, March 30 (AP)—Leo Blum, veteran French Socialist leader, died today.

Blum, veteran of France's turbulent between-war politics, would have been 78 April 9.

Three premier of France, he was active in France's government to the end. He was vice premier under Andre Marie in 1948 and was a leader in the European unity movement.

A bitter foe of the Nazis before and during the war, Blum was just as vehemently an enemy of the Communists who made him a constant target of their attacks.

Blum, tall, angular and sharp-nosed, served as premier twice in the years before World War II and once after the war. He had been designated as premier for a fourth time by the president of the republic, but failed to get confirmation from the National Assembly.

One of the ablest debaters of French contemporary life, Blum was considered an elder statesman of the Socialist party. He edited its newspaper, Le Populaire.

Plans Are Disclosed Washington, March 30 (AP)—Members of the House Armed Services Committee disclosed plans today to add about $647,000,000 to next year's defense budget. This development followed testimony by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower that a half billion dollars more at a "guess" could be used to strengthen this country's defenses.

Farm Bureau Hails Better Roads Plan Accomplishment

Approval by the legislature of a 10-year plan for improvement of town roads has been hailed by William Coy of Clintondale, chairman of the Ulster County Farm Bureau, as an accomplishment which will do much for farm and rural people. According to Coy, the Farm Bureau has been driving hard for several years to get a workable 10-year plan enacted by the legislature, to the end that there may be satisfactory year around roads in the permanent farming areas.

Three years ago the New York State Conference Board of Farm Organizations, of which the New York State Farm Bureau Federation is a part, asked the governor to have a legislative commission study the problem and devise a workable plan with state aid. At the request of Governor Dewey the Temporary Legislative Commission on Agriculture headed by Senator Austin Erwin of Genesee undertook the job. Hearings were held throughout the state in 1948. Under the plan adopted by the legislature, the state will share the cost of improving town roads up to a cost ceiling of $7,000 per mile. Any cost in excess of $7,000 per mile will have to be borne by the town. For the state as a whole, the state will pay 50 percent of the total cost. In no case will the state pay more than 25 percent or less than 25 percent of actual cost up to the $7,000 per mile ceiling. Under the formula provided in the bill, the less wealthy towns receive a higher percentage of state aid than do the more wealthy towns.

Coy says that according to the New York State Farm Bureau Federation, this plan will provide for raising road beds, adequate drainage, proper grading of back-slopes, a surface of gravel or other suitable material at least 12 inches deep, shoulders not less than five feet wide and a road bed not less than 16 feet wide. The Farm Bureau Federation maintains that a lot of expensive roads is not needed in many farm areas but roads that are passable the year around is greatly needed.

Under the plan town boards will prepare town road maps indicating the roads that should be improved. These are subject to approval or disapproval by the board of supervisors and the State Department of Public Works. Bills embodying the 10-year town road improvement plan were introduced by Senator Austin Erwin of Genesee and Assemblyman Harold Creel of Cortland county.

In making chiffon, angel, or sponge cakes remove the eggs from the refrigerator at least an hour before using. When the egg is out of them, the whites will give greater volume when whipped.

CHICKEN UNDER GLASS—David Steele of El Dorado, Kan., holds an 8-week-old chicken which was raised in a 5-gallon glass bottle. Put in the bottle when only a few days old, the chicken now weighs an estimated 2 1/4 pounds and appears normal and healthy. A small round hole in the bottle allows the pullet to reach water and feed dishes hung from outside of bottle.

Lobbyists Regulated

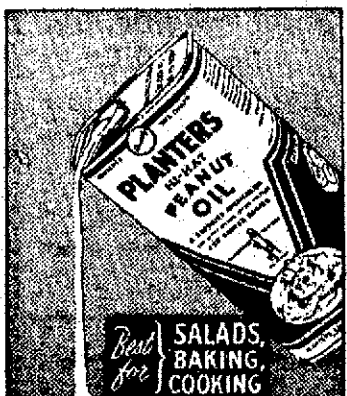

Chicago (AP)—Lobbyists now are regulated in 38 states. This was brought out in a survey made for the 1950-51 Book of States, published by the Council of State Governments. The study showed: "Twenty-nine states provide for the registration of all compensated legislative agents and counselors. In nine others, regulatory laws are limited to improper lobbying practices. Seventeen of the states requiring registration also require that lobbyists file statements of expenses paid, incurred or promised in connection with promotion of legislation." All states have laws in force against offering or receiving bribes.

HIGHLAND

Highland, March 29.—County officers and directors attending the executive meeting of the county W.C.T.U. held Friday at the home of Mrs. Myron Shultis, Modena, were Mrs. M. Teas, Mrs. E. H. Faust and Miss Belle Brinkerhoff. The meeting was called and presided over by the county president, Mrs. Lillian Shultis, Kingston. There were representatives from unions in Kingston, Plattekill, New Paltz, Clintondale, Ellettsville. Plans were made for the county institute on May 19. Ways and means were discussed for the part in raising money to further the cause of temperance by moving pictures and publication of literature appealing to the young. Mrs. Faust, president of the local union, will bring these plans before the meeting on April 13.

Mrs. W. D. Corwin will be hostess to the meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society Wednesday afternoon, April 5. Mrs. Roscoe Wood is the chairman and is assisted by Mrs. Corwin and Mrs. Abram Rhodes. The president, Mrs. C. W. Rathgeb, will preside. There will be a food sale soon and an auction in May as projects to be arranged.

South American Music is the subject of the program to be arranged by Mrs. Arthur Kurtz and presented at the meeting of the Music Study Club Tuesday afternoon, April 4, at the home of Mrs. Myron Hazen.

Mrs. Susan K. Ploss, who died Friday at her home in Kingston, was for many years a teacher here of the first grade.

Two new members were received in Highland Grange at the last meeting and took the obligations. At the meeting on April 4 the broad baking contest will be held. August 5 was set as the date for the annual clambake and April 20 the Grange will hold a spaghetti supper and dance for the benefit of the Boy Scouts. A card party is scheduled March 30. Dr. DeWitt spoke on cancer following the business meeting. Dartmouth was played and refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Philip Bravata, J. J. Donovan, Mrs. Rook Miss Alma Petersen, a student in the local school, received a prize of $35 at the oratorical contest in Tonawanda, Saturday. The winner was Roland Hengen of the John Adams School in Queens. He received $100. The winner enters the contest to be in Torrington, Conn. April 11 in which contestants from the states of New York, Rhode Island, Connecticut and New Jersey enter. There were 30,000 contestants in the state at the start.

State Will Check Tax Delinquents

Albany, N. Y., March 30 (AP)—Double-barreled drive to catch New Yorkers who fail to file state income tax returns by April 15 deadline was mapped today by the State Tax Commission.

Spencer E. Bates, commission president, said the Federal Internal Revenue Bureau was co-operating in the crackdown on delinquent state taxpayers. He explained that the federal bureau was providing list of employers who file salary reports to the federal government. The list will be compared with employers' returns.

reports filed with the state on wages paid to New Yorkers. The employers' reports also will be checked by machine against individual tax returns. State income tax returns must be filed by single persons whose net income and net capital gain in 1949 amounted to $1,000 or more, and by married couples whose joint net income and capital gain was $2,500 or more. Bates warned that tax bills of persons who file late will be increased by penalties and interest.

Happy Is The Day When Backache Goes Away . . .

As we get older, aches and pains, especially in the back, become a part of our lives. This may be due to many causes, but one of the most common is the weakening of the muscles that support the spine. Backache can be relieved by using the Backache Remedy, a powerful muscle relaxant that helps the muscles relax and reduces the pain. It is a safe and effective remedy for all types of backache, including that caused by rheumatism, arthritis, and other conditions. Backache Remedy is available in liquid and tablet form, and can be used as often as needed. It is a true blessing for anyone who suffers from backache.

Spring Gives Way To Winter Summer

(By The Associated Press)
Winter and summer crowded together out of the nation's weather picture today.
The summery scene: Thousands flocked to the beaches in southern California yesterday as the mercury steamed up to near 90 above. It was 86 at Los Angeles, the hottest day of the year. Long Beach basked in a midsummer 88 and Santa Monica high was 87.
It was hot in Miami, too, a record 86 for the date. Miami Beach freezing temperatures were due was two degrees warmer and the high in the Miami area was 89 at the International Airport.

The country's top mark was 91 at Phoenix and Yuma, Ariz.
Winter's setting:
A few snow flurries fell in the Atlantic states early today and last night, melting as they hit the ground.
A freezing line extended over the northern and central tier of states from the Rockies to the north Atlantic states. The mercury dropped to near zero in some parts of Michigan, Wisconsin and North Dakota. Light snow fell in parts of the northeastern states.
Some moderation in the cold weather was expected over most of the midwest today. But the freezing temperatures were due to remain over the northeastern region for another 24 hours.

The chilly weather appeared to have eased the flood danger in upstate New York. Flood waters receded after having spilled over thousands of acres of farm land.
The hardest hit area was south of Rochester, where the Genesee river overflowed its banks. Dozens of families had been evacuated from residential areas south of Rochester.

To Supply Power for Chelsea Pumping Plant

The Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation announced today that it has been awarded a contract by the New York City Board of Water Supply to furnish electric power at 110,000 volts for the city's new Hudson river pumping plant at Chelsea. Under full operation, motors are expected to use about 7,000,000 kilowatt-hours of electricity a month to pump 100,000,000 gallons of water daily from the Hudson river and then down 628 feet into the city's Delaware Aqueduct. The plant is expected to operate about five months a year.

Girl, 13, Acclaimed For Saving 4 Charges

Oklahoma City, March 30 (AP)—A teen-age baby sitter was acclaimed a heroine by firemen last night for saving four small children as fire quickly destroyed their home.

Norma Lee Cook, 13, a seventh grader, tasted tears as she told about how four-year-old Leland Ray Tate started the blaze in another room while playing with matches.

The flames leveled the four-room frame house of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Tate, causing $2,000 damage.

"I got them all out but they don't have any clothes or furniture left," Norma choked out. "I can't face their mother or father. I did all I could do."

Norma tended Anna Paullette, 6, Leland Ray, Loretta, 3, and Paul, Jr., 12 months while their parents were attending a movie.

"Suddenly Leland Ray rushed in and said the house was on fire," she continued. "I didn't pay much attention. He grabbed me again and said again 'The house is on fire.'"

She put the baby in a chair, walked into the adjoining room and saw a clothes closet blazing.

She made two trips to get the children to safety as the flames shot through the roof.

Firemen could do little to save the structure.

Leland Ray said he picked up the matches left on the radio, walked into the closet and struck one while Norma Lee was reading.

Quarrel Over Pigeons Brings Death to Boy

New York, March 30 (AP)—Two Brooklyn boys had been quarreling about some pet pigeons when a fight started.

It ended when 9-year-old

Charles Hapman plunged five stories to his death from a rooftop yesterday.

Assistant District Attorney Aaron Silver said John Soriano, 14, admitted hammering at Charles' hands with a 10-foot pole until the younger boy lost his grip on a fire escape and fell.

Silver gave this account: Charles went to the roof of a tenement to play with some pigeons circling over a coop. John, who lives nearby, told Charles to leave the birds alone.

When Charles tried to catch a pigeon, John picked up the pole and chased Charles to the edge of the roof. Charles tried to get down the fire escape. When John hammered at his hands, Charles lost his hold on the fire escape and fell.

The older boy was held on a juvenile delinquency charge for

Gulf Stream and Birds Were Topics at 20th Century Club

The Twentieth Century Club met Monday afternoon at the home of Miss Mary Ingalls, 697 Broadway.

Following the business meeting two topics were presented, "The Gulf Stream" by Mrs. Herman Schwenk, and "Birds" by Miss Mary Ingalls.

The Gulf Stream has not received the important place it deserves among the mysteries of nature, which are so constantly apparent, and so, taken for granted.

The Gulf Stream—that mysterious river on the average 50 miles wide and 2000 fathoms deep, for centuries has kept the northern part of Europe supplied with the tropical heat from the Gulf of Mexico and accounts for the fertility of England and Ireland as well as all the countries along the western coast of Europe and, besides this, the eastern coast of the United States. It bathes these lands with its warm winds and hospitable waters, changing the climate, history, and social and economic lives of them all.

Gushing forth from the Gulf of Mexico, a stream of hot water 88 degrees F. five miles wide and 400 fathoms deep, it flows past the beaches of Florida at the rate of five miles per hour. It contains more water than all the rivers of the earth combined and contributes over 77 quintillion foot pounds of energy in the form of heat to the North Atlantic Ocean per day. After circling the shores of Europe, it enters the Arctic Ocean and emerges, cooled down to 35 degrees and returns to the Atlantic Ocean near the equator, its starting place, flowing under the north flowing Gulf Stream along the ocean floor.

The water of the Gulf Stream is a deep blue which can be easily distinguished from the gray-green of surrounding waters.

In telling about her subject, "Birds," Miss Ingalls described some of the better known species. She described their color, favorite nesting places, food, and the nature of their songs.

Bird lovers the world over are waiting to see the first bluebird, and hear its spring song, the symbol of peace and happiness. Other birds described were the robin, song sparrow, wood thrush, cardinal (described as the birds' police force), woodpecker, whippoorwill, and owl, each one having its own traits and intriguing eccentricities.

Miss Ingalls spoke of the numerous bird sanctuaries over the country. A national system of sanctuaries was established by Theodore Roosevelt in 1903. The first one consisted of 2,000 acres on Pelican Island. The best known sanctuary is in Florida. It was a gift to America by Edward Bok. The beautiful singing tower here was an idea borrowed from the Netherlands, the homeland of Bok. The motto of this sanctuary is a quotation by John Burroughs, "I come here to find myself."

A bird census was taken at Christmas time from the end of Long Island to Poughkeepsie, in Nassau county alone 108 species were observed, some very rare. The largest group was of 80,000 starlings under a vinct in New York city.

Miss Patricia Law, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis H. Law of 150 Fair street, Kingston, third from left in photo, is shown relaxing between classes at Van Der Heyden House of Russell Sage College, Troy. She is a member of the executive committee of the house. Miss Law, a speech-teacher training—major, is a graduate of Kingston High School and while studying at Sage resides with her aunt, Miss Helen Law, in Troy. She will return to Kingston next week for the annual spring vacation. Others, left to right in photo, are Hester Thayer of Albany, Jane Dwyer of Troy, Miss Law, Martha Van Denburgh of Troy, Barbara De Smidt of Troy and Agnes Gruver of Latham.

Famous Cantata To Be Performed Palm Sunday Night

One of the great compositions for Holy Week, the cantata "Seven Last Words of Christ," will be performed Palm Sunday evening, April 2, by the choir of St. Peter's Church, Rosendale.

Soloists in the cantata, to be performed in St. Peter's Church at 8 p. m., are Joan Galvin, soprano, William Moonoy, baritone, and Edward Cherry and Bill Livingston, tenors.

James Sweeney, of Kingston, will direct the performance from the organ.

In announcing the event, Mr. Sweeney said it would be one of the musical highlights of the Lenten season in this area, and that many persons from Kingston, Woodstock and other communities were expected to attend.

Beta Sigma Phi To Enter Girl In 'Queen' Contest

Plans for active participation in this year's Ulster County Apple Blossom Festival scheduled for Kingston on Saturday, May 6, were made during Tuesday night's regular bi-monthly meeting of New York Gamma Chi, Beta Sigma Phi, at the Y.W.C.A.

Mrs. Irvin J. Thomas was named chairman in charge of arrangements for the selection of a contestant to represent the sorority. Mrs. Roger G. Billings, former president, will assist.

Also discussed at the meeting was the annual installation dinner on April 18 at Judie's. All members are requested to attend. The sorority has been invited to attend the state convention scheduled for Newburgh during the latter part of April. Several delegates will represent the local chapter.

The program for Tuesday's meeting was prepared by Mrs. Thomas and Mrs. Charles Horne on the subject of poetry. Several phonograph records were played denoting different types of poems.

Mrs. Albert Roosa, vice president, conducted the business meeting.

The next meeting of the sorority will be held Tuesday, April 11, at 7:45 p. m. at the Y.W.C.A.

Anthony Buzzelli, Artist Known Here, Has New York Show

J. Anthony Buzzelli, artist well known in this area for his paintings of local churches, and former art instructor at the Wiltwyck School in Esopus, will have an exhibition of paintings at the Perargh Galleries, on 57th street in New York, beginning Monday.

Buzzelli, whose paintings have been shown at many of the major American museums, including the Metropolitan in New York, conducted the Ulster County Art Galleries on the Bend, at Route 9-W, in Esopus, during the summer of 1945, when he was teaching at the Wiltwyck school. He was also director of the Vendome Art Galleries in New York for a time.

His watercolors of local scenes are well known. During the 16th annual Flower Show at the Ascension Church in West Park, he was asked to show his paintings and also his Forewell craft, a technique he developed in 1941 of making fired painting on steel.

During his stay in this area, he made several trips to the Castle Point Veteran Hospital, and was the first artist to bring an exhibit there. He demonstrated watercolor technique, and was influential in the decision of several patients to take up art.

Among the paintings of churches which he made was one of the Church of the Presentation in Port Ewen, which was accepted by the Rev. Michael Curley, pastor.

After leaving Esopus, Mr. Buzzelli spent a year traveling and painting in Europe, and studied at the Beaux Arts in Paris. Recently he returned from Mexico.

His show at the Forewell Galleries will run from April 3 to 15, and will be divided in three groups—paintings of Paris, New York and Mexico.

He has exhibited at the Chicago Art Institute, Carnegie Art Institute, at the museums of Cleveland, and the Art Institute of New York.

Catskill Glee Club Presents Program in Grahamsville Church

About 30 members of the Catskill Glee Club presented a concert last Monday evening in Memorial Hall, Grahamsville, with solos by Howard W. Hawthorne, tenor and Cyrus W. Tompkins, baritone, and a group of songs by the Glee club quartet. The concert was sponsored by the Methodist Church of Grahamsville.

The concert was under the direction of Rolland E. Heernance, conductor, with Ruth N. Coons as accompanist. After the concert, there was impromptu singing at a reception. The Catskill Glee Club is composed of members from many Hudson valley communities, including Kingston.

Wesleyan Service Guild

The March meeting of the St. James Wesleyan Service Guild was held Tuesday evening, March 28, with Mrs. Henry P. Elghmey as guest speaker. Mrs. Elghmey, whose parents were missionaries, was born in Japan and spent the first 13 years of her life there. After a very delicious supper of Japanese food, Mrs. Elghmey told many interesting things about her life in Japan and of the customs of the people.

On Rider's Dean's List John Grunenwald, son of Mrs. Frances Grunenwald of Port Ewen, and Charles Legg, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Lester Legg of 227 Smith avenue, were among the 138 students named to the winter term Dean's list at Rider College, Trenton, N. J. Dean of Students George Knight, who released the names said that this was one of the largest Dean's lists in the history of the college.

Cake and Food Sale

The Willing Workers of Clinton Avenue Methodist Church will hold a cake and food sale at the Montgomery Ward store on Friday, March 31, at 10 o'clock.

Mrs. Robert Hamm and Son Are Honored at Shower

Mrs. Robert Hamm of High Falls was honored at a congratulatory shower last Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Ernest Jansen, honoring the birth of a son, Robert Lee, Jr., March 10. The decorations were in blue and yellow and featured a large 36-inch rabbit hitched to an express wagon piled high with gifts. Refreshments were served buffet style from a table in the center of which was a cake saying "It's a Boy," flanked on the sides by blue candles. Games were played following refreshments. Guests included: Kingston, Mrs. J. Ellis Briggs, and the Misses Minerva Schwartz and Ruth Herdman; Stone Ridge, Mmes. Isaac Graham, Joseph Hoffman, William Larsen, and DeWitt Oakley; and High Falls, Mmes. Carlton Bench, Wallace Fulford, Alwin Nicholas, Edmund O'Hara, John Ham, George Williams Sr., Dewitt Hasbrouck, Robert Sutton, Ernest Jansen, Miss Alice Krum, and the guest of honor Mrs. Robert Hamm.

To Question Classmates In Marchesello Death

New York, March 30 (AP)—Detectives planned today to question classmates of 14-year-old Louis Marchesello, who died last night with a .38 caliber bullet hole in his chest.

Shortly before he collapsed in an East Harlem hallway, the boy was said to have staggered upstairs to a friend's apartment carrying part of the essentials for a "zip gun."

The friend, 15-year-old Frank Chirco, told police that Louis handed him a toy pistol and a length of metal tubing—parts used by Harlem juvenile gangs to fire .22 caliber cartridges—and said:

"Get rid of it—I'm shot."
Then, the Chirco boy told police, Louis stumbled downstairs to the hallway. He was dead when an ambulance arrived.

Police said that neither cartridges nor other elements for a complete "zip gun" were found in the dead boy's possession. A .38 cartridge would burst a "zip gun," police said.

IT'S NEWS THIS WEEK AT ARLENE'S

March 30, 1950—Arlene's, 49 N. Front St., Kingston, has just received their new California sportswear. Famous brand Korot of California, exclusive with Arlene's here, has just arrived by air express from sunny California. Showing in this new group of crash linens and denim are two piece suits, dresses, sun backs, vests and skirts, co-ordinates, shorts, slacks and jackets that will thrill you. These Korot of California fashions were smash hits at recent fashion shows at Palm Springs and Sun Valley.

Fashion designer, Stephanie Korot, favorite with the women of the west and Hollywood show people, prides herself with her new lines which have been acclaimed as her best showing in years. New shipment of "J" shirts, slacks, black suits, Mexican skirts, peasant blouses, cotton shirts and, of course, new circle skirts will convince you why California has become the sportswear center of the country.

Be sure to see and ask for Korot of California fashions styled and tailored at prices you will love. Exclusive with Arlene's at Kingston.

Fashions Conform To Business Needs, Style Authority Says

There are one million more women than men in the business world of the United States, and they dictate fashions by their demands. Mrs. Hilda Lightstone of Woodstock told the Business and Professional Girls Club at a supper meeting last night.

Mrs. Lightstone, fashion authority, said her lines should be about 14 inches from the floor, but that that figure should not be accepted arbitrarily. For example, she said, the hemline of a coat should come to the largest portion of the calf, regardless of the distance to the floor.

One style trend she noted was full skirts—some of them circular—for summer, with slim skirts returning next fall. Another popular summer fashion will be sleeveless models, she said.

She said the new suits had rounded shoulders—no padding. At the business meeting of the club, it was announced that Ole Windstad, conductor of the Dutchess County Philharmonic, would be guest speaker at the Mother and Daughter banquet in May.

May 13 was set as the date of a food sale to be held at Montgomery Ward. Next meeting will feature an Easter party planned by the social committee.

156th Auxiliary

A regular meeting of the 156th Auxiliary Corps will be held Monday, April 3, at 8 p. m. at the state armory on Manor avenue. All members are asked to be present as important business is to be transacted. A special invitation is extended to any mothers or wives of National Guardsmen interested in the organization.

Good Taste Today

By Emily Post

(Author of "Etiquette," "Children

DINNER PROGRAMS

This is a question as old as radio: "My brother and I are arguing about whether or not it is permissible to turn the radio on during a dinner party. I think it's unfair to run the risk of inflicting a program on guests which they may not really want to hear at all and yet in politeness feel they have to say they do."

Ordinarily when music is played at a dinner or any social gathering, it is not supposed to be a bar to conversation. That is, it should be very low so as to be no more than a musical background. On the other hand, should news of great importance for a program of possible interest to those present be coming over the air, guests would naturally be asked whether or not they were interested in hearing it. If they say they are, conversation would temporarily cease.

At Home Cards

Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter lives in a distant city and is being married there. We are the only ones from here who will be present at the wedding and only announcements are being sent. May we use a return address on those—those of the bride and groom's new home—so that any who want to send them gifts will not mail them here to us?

Answer: If you enclose an "at home card" of the bride and groom with their address on it, this will show those who want to send a gift where to send it. Others can list their address for future use.

Strangers Talk

Dear Mrs. Post: When traveling a long distance on a bus next to someone who is a stranger, is it improper to start a conversation—particularly if between a man and woman?

Answer: It might not be improper, but on the other hand, it is quite likely to be unwise—unless each is a good judge of the other, and both are friendly and talkative persons.

Cocktails

Dear Mrs. Post: What kind of cocktail can a sixteen-year-old girl order when she is out in a group with older men and women who are having real ones?

Answer: She can order herself gingerale, Coca-cola, orangeade,

Ferry Is Likely To Resume Old Schedule April 5

The Kingston-Rhinecliff ferry is expected to resume operating next Wednesday if it passes the U. S. Coast Guard inspection Tuesday, William K. Hagginbotham, executive secretary of the New York State Bridge Authority said today.

The ferry will not operate from 7 a. m. to 11 p. m., as requested by the Kingston Chamber of Commerce, but will resume its former schedule, Hagginbotham said. It has been in dry dock for repairs for the past several days, and before its trip here it was painted.

It was originally planned to resume ferry service April 1, but the boat's trip to dry dock was dependent upon the winter's ice leaving the Rondout creek. The requested later schedule, Hagginbotham said, would require the hiring of additional personnel.

Attlee Cabinet Talks About Tories' Victory

London, March 30 (AP)—Prime Minister Attlee's Labor government, smarting under a sleeper defeat in the House of Commons on a minor issue, was reported today aiming for a confidence vote to patch up the hole in its prestige.

Winston Churchill's Conservatives pulled a surprise victory in Commons last night in a vote on a Parliamentary technicality. The vote was on whether to adjourn, not an issue upon which the government might fall. The maneuver, however, gave the Laborites a taste of the battle in sore for them at every turn.

Attlee's cabinet met for more than two hours this morning in a post mortem on the 283-257 vote. A government informant reported the cabinet agreed to look on the defeat as a technical one. To assuage the pain of the defeat, the government is expected to ask for a new vote of confidence, possible in a week or ten days. Defeat on a confidence vote would require the government to resign.

Under British Parliamentary system the government must resign if defeated on any major policy issue.

The Tory needle struck the House by surprise, a lot of members were absent, some without explanation. As a drab debate on Labor's handling of gasoline and coal supplies drew to a close, Tory members and some of their Liberal allies began filtering into Commons in strength, some of them dressed in evening wear.

They obviously had been tipped off. Then, without warning, they forced through the technical motion to adjourn the night's session and won by a vote of 283 to 257.

Attlee's party whips immediately began to investigate the reason for the heavy absenteeism among their members.

Robbers Eat, Get $410
New York, March 30 (AP)—Two robbers got a free breakfast and $410 in cash when they robbed Child's Restaurant at 570 Lexington avenue early today. They spent about an hour eating before they poked a gun at night Manager Ernest Barnes, 32, of 48-02 43rd Road, Woodside, Queens, and herded him and five customers into a basement locker room. Three male employees were forced to lie behind a service bar in the kitchen. The robbers failed to get several thousand dollars from a locked safe when Barnes pleaded that he did not know the combination of it.

At 'Worf's Skirts' Annual Banquet

Hurley Village, 11th Ward Exceeds Red Cross Quotas

Kingston's Eleventh Ward and the village of Hurley have exceeded their quotas in the American Red Cross fund drive.

The Eleventh Ward became the first ward in the city to report going over the top on its campaign. Mrs. Eugene Cornwell and Mrs. Chauncey Main, co-chairmen, and their workers collected $871, Ulster Chapter officials said. The quota was $850.

The village of Hurley exceeded its quota of $350 with a total of $367 collected. Hurley is the second of the county units to reach its quota, the first being Esopus. Mrs. George Brown was the Hurley chairman, assisted by Mrs. Harold Davis, Lawrence Beutner, Miss Maria Newkirk, Mrs. Charles Kelyea, Mrs. Edmund Bower, Mrs. Jack Gill, Mrs. James Chianelli, Mrs. Alton Dietz, Mrs. William Feitz, Mrs. Arthur Nash, Mrs. Ernest Myer, Mrs. Arnold Johnson and Mrs. Bruce Van Kleeck.

For peace of mind
...a long distance call

Do you lose a lot of sleep worrying about things that never happen?

So often just a few words exchanged over the long distance wire will relieve your mind and let you get a good night's sleep.

Rates are reasonable, as you'll see below. And service is speedy. Most calls are completed in just about a minute, while you hold the phone. So there's really no point to worrying an extra minute when a long distance call could bring you peace of mind.

How to telephone out of town at bargain rates:
First, use the fast, low-cost Station-to-Station service—which means you will talk to anyone who answers your call.
Secondly, take advantage of low night and Sunday rates, generally in effect from 6 p. m. to 4:30 a. m. weekdays and all day Sunday.

It costs so little to call—

Dr. Andrew G. Foord Inherits $25,000

New York, March 30 (Special)—The estate of the late Mrs. Kate Macy Ladd of "Nutliff," Far Hills, N. J., from which Dr. Andrew Green Foord of Kerhonkson, inherits $25,000, was appraised at a net value of $11,931,467 in a report filed here today by the New York State Transfer Tax Department. A total of $8,130,645 goes to charity.

Principal legatee is the Josiah Macy Jr. Foundation of New York, founded by Mrs. Ladd for medical research, which receives a specific bequest of $2,500,000 and the approximately $5,500,000 residuary estate. Mrs. Ladd, the widow of the late Walter Graeme Ladd, retired lawyer and yachtsman, had long been interested in charity organizations, some of which were sponsored by her father, the late Josiah Macy, and her grandfather, the late William H. Macy, both pioneers in the oil industry. She died on August 27th, 1933, at the age of 85 after having been an invalid for nearly 20 years.

Cleaning Paint Brush Use the proper thinner for the product you've painted with, when for deeper brushes.

Painting brushes. Properly used, a oil paint, enamel or varnish should be cleaned the proper time followed by a light coat of spirits. Use a good thinner for brushes used for oil paint. Water for deeper brushes.

9-W Theatre Will Open for Season Saturday, April 8

With ceremonies in which Ulster county officials have been invited to participate, the 9-W Theatre, a Walter Brade Theatre on the Saugerties road just north of Kingston will open for the season Saturday evening April 8.

The theatre with room for nearly 700 seats has a new condensed play area and many landscaping innovations, making it one of the largest and best equipped in the state, according to R. W. Chase, supervisor of Brade Theatres, Inc.

Clark Jordan, former manager of Drive-In Theatres in Albany, will manage the Drive-In. He succeeds Jack Hamilton, who has been transferred to open the Brade organization's newest drive-in in Atlantic City—the sixth of 27 the circuit will have in operation within the next few seasons.

Mr. Jordan said all play equipment has been grouped into a new play area at the rear of the theatre. A pony track has been set up for "Dixie," the pony that won 31 awards in horse show competition last year. A new merry-go-round has been installed and other equipment added to the area will now have several giant swings, a play gym, slides and see-saws for the youngsters and a dance area, shuffleboard, television and horseshoes for adults.

Free popcorn will be given to everyone attending opening night, except to the first 100 men, a surprise gift to the first 100 women, and children in coats to every child. The opening screen show will be "The Big Cat," a Technicolor outdoor adventure picture and "Siren of Atlantis," starring Maria Montez, an adventure-romance laid in the lost kingdom of Atlantis.

Mr. Jordan said admission prices in effect last year will be unchanged, with children under 12 years of age still being admitted without charge. He stated that as an added attraction, a full length Western will be shown every Sunday evening after the opening for the children. Game nights will be resumed on Friday evenings—old-fashioned races during the week, and that many other special programs designed for family participation will be introduced.

A wooded area adjacent to the theatre has been developed into a picnic area, with tables and benches. He said, which like the picnic area will be available for the free use of patrons, enabling them to spend the entire day and evening at the theatre.

Catholic Charities Broadcast April 3

Monsignor James J. Lynch, executive director of New York Catholic Charities, will speak on the 31st annual appeal of that organization in a rebroadcast on WKNY on Monday, April 3 from 11:45 to 11:55 a. m. The title of the talk will be "Catholic Charities and You."

The 186 institutions and agencies of the Catholic Charities of the Archdiocese of New York are in ten counties—New York, Richmond, Bronx, Westchester, Putnam, Dutchess, Rockland, Sullivan, Ulster and Orange.

The planning, coordination and administration of this vast program, as well as meeting emergency financial demands of the various agencies, is the task of New York Catholic Charities for which the community of New York is asked to contribute. This year the goal necessary for this purpose is $2,175,000.

The direct appeal will be conducted in the 384 parishes which are served by the Catholic Charities, beginning April 23 through May 3.

Britons Drink Less Beer

London (AP)—Beer-drinking Britons are drinking less beer nowadays. Latest figures show the country's production of the stuff dropped to 1,831,769 bulk barrels a month. Analysts say the slump is due probably both to high beer prices—resulting from high taxes—and the growing popularity of entertainment found outside saloons. They guess the onset of home television may aggravate it.

LYONSVILLE

Lyonsville, March 30—Mrs. Henry Wager is ill at her home.

IT'S HARD TO BELIEVE—BUT TRUE!

IT'S ANOTHER TIDE MIRACLE!

IT CUTS WASHDAY WORK IN HALF!

A DAZZLING CLEAN WASH WITHOUT RINSING

...THERE'S NOTHING LIKE TIDE!

"I'M THROUGH WITH RINSING—THANKS TO TIDE!"

SAYS MRS. GLORIA GUY, DETROIT, MICH.

"The grandest thing that ever happened to washday is Tide—without rinsing! The time it saves! Best of all—washes come out clean and dazzling white! So, why waste time rinsing when clothes come out like that without rinsing?"

Just wash—wring out—hang up!

WOMEN EVERYWHERE say it's the greatest thing that ever happened to washday! They love the time and trouble they save by skipping the rinsing! They love the way it cuts down water bills! But most of all they love the way their clothes come dazzling clean . . . so clean they can't tell the difference between a Tide wash that's been rinsed and one that hasn't.

YOU ALREADY KNOW how clean Tide gets your clothes with rinsing—cleaner than any other washing product known. Now try the same wonderful Tide without rinsing and compare the results. You'll be amazed to see how bright and clean your wash comes right from the wringer. Get Procter & Gamble's Tide today—every package of Tide on your dealer's shelf right now will give you a dazzling clean wash without rinsing!

HERE ARE THE FACTS ABOUT WASHING WITHOUT RINSING

1. How can Tide get clothes clean without rinsing? Tide keeps the dirt suspended in the sudsy water. When you wring out the clothes, the dirt runs out with the washwater—clothes come from the wringer CLEAN, and dry as bacteria free as rinsed clothes.

2. Will clothes come white? Yes, dazzling white! Just see if you can tell the difference between a rinsed, and an unrinsed Tide-washed shirt!

3. How about ironing unrinsed clothes? When you use Tide without rinsing, clothes dry soft and fluffy . . . iron easily.

4. Is this method safe for fabrics? Yes, it is safe . . . skipping the rinsing and extra wringings actually saves wear and tear on clothes.

O'Connor Leads Weiners to 61-52 Tourney Victory Over Potters

Highland Falls Defeats Philmont In Overtime Game

Two Big Tilts Slated for Saturday Night

Fig. Ed O'Connor, St. Patrick's Academy, high scoring center, sports added the Newburgh Weiners to an impressive 61 to 52 victory over Potter Brothers in the Y-M-C-A basketball tournament Wednesday night on the Y boards.

Mixed in a lineup which was stacked with other Hilly City center, O'Connor, who scored 18 points, emerged from the clash with high scoring honors of 18 points. He scored four conversions for his 28 points.

With O'Connor showing the way, Newburgh led from the start. The rest of the star-studded Newburgh team followed suit.

trillo, ex-N.F.A. cage star, hitting for 12 points as did Johnny Antonucci, Dick Tyler, Newburgh's sensational center during the 1949-50 campaign, flipped in eight. Frank Quimby, another star of the Goldbacks' DUSO champs, found the range for six.

Newburgh jumped off to a 12-9 edge at the first period and led by nine points, 28-19 at the half. The Hilly City five increased its lead to 12 points in the third period leading by 42-30.

Potters, unable to penetrate the close defense employed by the Newburgh quintet, enjoyed their best scoring spree in the final session with 22 points. Newburgh lagged 19.

Sass was individual high scorer for Potters with 11 while Peck and Engel added 10 respectively.

Newburgh, on the strength of last night's win, will meet the strong Reidsdorfs of Hudson Saturday at 9 p. m. at the Y.

Highland Falls won notice on the Sackett's Juniors of a tough night on Saturday when they knocked off the Philmont Merchants by 62 to 55 in a five minute overtime squelcher last night. The regulation game ended in a 51-51 deadlock.

Superior ball handling was the difference of victory and defeat last night. The winners, displaying a sizzling ball handling offense, grabbed four deuces and three free shots in the overtime while Philmont was limited to a pair of two-pointers.

Ryerson center for the winners, collected 21 points to head his club while Van Buren of Philmont was the top scorer of the game with 22.

After a 9-9 deadlock in the first period, Philmont broke away and led by 24 to 20 at the half.

Philmont protected its slim margin in the third canto with 15 points to lead by 30-34. Highland Falls picked up steam as the team went on, however, and cashed in with 17 points in a fourth period flourish while Philmont scored 12.

Both clubs had plenty of opportunities to win the game in the regulation time but missed on easy layups. With three seconds left on the clock, Schutz of Philmont sent the game into overtime with a two-pointer from underneath.

Morgan Seen as Only Rookie to Brooks' Opening Day Lineup; Hurlers Problem

Vero Beach, Fla., March 30 (AP)—The 1950 Brooklyn Dodgers are a stand-pat ball club. Rookie third baseman Bob Morgan probably will be the only newcomer in the opening day lineup.

It's an unusual situation for a Branch Ruckey team. Morgan expected, there are no wing-footed rookies with "steel springs" in their legs crowding the regulars. The young club that just made it last year is expected to do it again.

Brooklyn will be favored to repeat as National League champs. That's a fact these days. The 1944 St. Louis Cards were the last repeaters in either league.

Manager Burt Shotton thinks his Dodgers can win again. So does Ruckey. Dodger president B.R.'s first 1950 plans were directed toward beating the Yankees in the next world series.

Brushes of the humiliating series defeat by the Yanks have healed. There even is fear of overconfidence. Ruckey knows the dangers of regulars too sure of their jobs. Shotton has preached steadily against the evils of complacency.

Gene Hermanski, Duke Snider and Carl Furillo will play the outfield. Gil Hodges at first, Jackie Robinson at second, Pee Wee Reese at short and Morgan at third make up the infield. Roy Campanella will catch. Add the starting pitcher and you're ready to go.

The Braves got two hits off Peterson and an unearned run in five innings. Perkowski yielded one hit.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 30 (AP)—It is becoming doubtful whether Old Reliable Tommy Henrich will be at first base for the New York Yankees when the season opens.

The rugged veteran proved last season that he recuperates quickly from ailments, but many of his teammates are wondering how long Henrich will be out this time with a bad left knee. It is taking plenty of time to respond to treatment.

Phoenix, Ariz., March 30 (AP)—Eddie Stankey, big, little second baseman of the New York Giants, is expected to be back in the lineup within a couple of days following a minor operation.

Stankey went under the knife yesterday for removal of warts from his left eye-lid. Dr. Anthony Palermo, Giants' physician, recommended the operation when the player complained after yesterday's pre-game workout. Dr. Palermo said the operation was not serious.

Vero Beach, Fla., March 30 (AP)—Rex Barney, a pitcher of great promise but equally great lack of control, will be relegated to the "B" squad when the Brooklyn Dodgers break camp Saturday.

The Dodgers have been very patient with the sometimes brilliant Barney, but Rex just can't seem to find the plate often enough with his curve ball. Manager Burt Shotton says the hurler needs the work he'll get with the "B" outfit.

Tucson, Ariz., March 30 (AP)—Just about all doubts about the ability of big Luke Easter, Cleveland outfielder, to hit big league pitching were laid to rest today.

Luscious Luke, the former San Diego batting ace, drove out his fifth homer of the exhibition season yesterday as the Tribe defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates, 7-6.

Easter, who also had a single in four trips to the plate, now is tied for club homer honors with Larry Doby.

That looks like Shotton's toughest problem — adding the pitcher. It's not unique. Every National League club with the possible exception of St. Louis has the same headache.

Don Newcombe, the jumbo-sized Negro right-hander, is the No. 1 boy.

Preacher Roe, lone series winner, is No. 2. Then comes Lefty Joe Hatten. After that it's up for grabs, with Ralph Branca, Rex Barney and Barney have disappointed this spring. Promising Jack Banta has been troubled by a sore shoulder.

Of the newcomers, Dan Bankhead (20-6 at Montreal) and Clarence Podbielan have shown good stuff. Bill McAdam, ex-Philadelphia A's, and Bob Milliken, a rookie from Fort Worth, have impressed Shotton. McAdam is properly of Montreal. He may be moved up if he can prove his arm no longer bothers him.

Carl Erskine has shown flashes of good form. So has Elv Palien, the reliever of last year. Clem Labine, 54-game workhorse at St. Paul was handicapped by a sore arm early. He may stick as bullpen helper.

Billy Loes, a bonus kid has to be retained. He is a slim six-footer with only one year's experience. The Dodgers have another bonus man who must be kept—first baseman Wayne Belardi who was with three clubs last season.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 30 (AP)—It is becoming doubtful whether Old Reliable Tommy Henrich will be at first base for the New York Yankees when the season opens.

The rugged veteran proved last season that he recuperates quickly from ailments, but many of his teammates are wondering how long Henrich will be out this time with a bad left knee. It is taking plenty of time to respond to treatment.

Stankey went under the knife yesterday for removal of warts from his left eye-lid. Dr. Anthony Palermo, Giants' physician, recommended the operation when the player complained after yesterday's pre-game workout. Dr. Palermo said the operation was not serious.

Vero Beach, Fla., March 30 (AP)—Rex Barney, a pitcher of great promise but equally great lack of control, will be relegated to the "B" squad when the Brooklyn Dodgers break camp Saturday.

The Dodgers have been very patient with the sometimes brilliant Barney, but Rex just can't seem to find the plate often enough with his curve ball. Manager Burt Shotton says the hurler needs the work he'll get with the "B" outfit.

Tucson, Ariz., March 30 (AP)—Just about all doubts about the ability of big Luke Easter, Cleveland outfielder, to hit big league pitching were laid to rest today.

Luscious Luke, the former San Diego batting ace, drove out his fifth homer of the exhibition season yesterday as the Tribe defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates, 7-6.

Easter, who also had a single in four trips to the plate, now is tied for club homer honors with Larry Doby.

That looks like Shotton's toughest problem — adding the pitcher. It's not unique. Every National League club with the possible exception of St. Louis has the same headache.

Don Newcombe, the jumbo-sized Negro right-hander, is the No. 1 boy.

Preacher Roe, lone series winner, is No. 2. Then comes Lefty Joe Hatten. After that it's up for grabs, with Ralph Branca, Rex Barney and Barney have disappointed this spring. Promising Jack Banta has been troubled by a sore shoulder.

Of the newcomers, Dan Bankhead (20-6 at Montreal) and Clarence Podbielan have shown good stuff. Bill McAdam, ex-Philadelphia A's, and Bob Milliken, a rookie from Fort Worth, have impressed Shotton. McAdam is properly of Montreal. He may be moved up if he can prove his arm no longer bothers him.

Carl Erskine has shown flashes of good form. So has Elv Palien, the reliever of last year. Clem Labine, 54-game workhorse at St. Paul was handicapped by a sore arm early. He may stick as bullpen helper.

Billy Loes, a bonus kid has to be retained. He is a slim six-footer with only one year's experience. The Dodgers have another bonus man who must be kept—first baseman Wayne Belardi who was with three clubs last season.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 30 (AP)—It is becoming doubtful whether Old Reliable Tommy Henrich will be at first base for the New York Yankees when the season opens.

The rugged veteran proved last season that he recuperates quickly from ailments, but many of his teammates are wondering how long Henrich will be out this time with a bad left knee. It is taking plenty of time to respond to treatment.

Phoenix, Ariz., March 30 (AP)—Eddie Stankey, big, little second baseman of the New York Giants, is expected to be back in the lineup within a couple of days following a minor operation.

St. Francis and Siena In Cage Semi-Finals

Albany, N. Y., March 30 (AP)—The National Catholic Intercollegiate basketball tournament moves into the semi-final round tonight with three teams from New York state and one from Iowa still in the running.

St. Francis of Brooklyn will meet Iowa of New Rochelle, N. Y., and Siena of Dubuque, Iowa, will clash with Siena, the host team.

St. Francis, underdog in the eight-team tourney, eliminated top-seeded Creighton University of Omaha, Neb., last night. The score was 67-65.

In another first-round tilt, Siena defeated St. Michael's of Winoski, Vt., 71-55.

New York (St. Nicholas Arena)—Joe Miceli, 145½, New York, stopped Tony Riccio, 148, Bayonne, N. J., 4.

11 New Directors Named at Meeting

The sale of $5,500 worth of stock in the Colonial City Baseball Club, Inc., for the operation of the Class B club for the 1950 campaign was announced during a special meeting of the directors Wednesday night at the Stuyvesant Hotel.

Announcement of the stock sale is date touched off a heated discussion for the coming diamond season by new and old directors who remarked that interest is keen in the formation of the local team.

Al Kurdi, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, who was named to handle promotion and publicity for all home games at the stadium this season, told The Freeman this morning that $12,000 is needed to finance the entire club for the 1950 campaign. "The $5,500 sale of stock is a terrific bit of hustling on the part of all associated with the club," Al declared, and added, "the sale indicates the tremendous interest being shown in the team this year."

The Colonials, who operated under the front office management of Ted Laviano last year, have been turned over to stock and barter to a Kingston group. This action took place at a recent Colonial League meeting in Stamford, Conn.

During last night's parley, 11 new directors were voted into the club including Addison Jones, Dr. Francis O'Connor, E. Frank Flanagan, Frederick J. Eitel, Ray Garaghan, Walter Elston, A. J. Burns, John Berinato, Myron Goldman, Ben N. Ashton and John Acker.

Holdover directors are Edmund Coughlin, Joe Epstein, Fred Eisler, Matt Herzog, Nick Kaslich and Clarence Rowland.

Ticket Reduction.
Kurdi also announced this morning that price of admission to Colonial home games this year would be reduced for both adults and children. The majority of directors meeting last night regarded the cut in admission prices a sure boon to increase attendance at the upturn ball park during the 1950 campaign.

Announcement also was made that applications will be accepted for a new management of the refreshment booth in the stadium. Interested persons are requested to write to the club, 43 Crown Street, for further details.

Meanwhile, plans are still going ahead for the actual spring training grind of the Colonials who will report April 10 at Lakewood, N. J. Final arrangements for the use of the Skeeter State layout were completed last Sunday. The club is expected to work out at Lakewood for about two weeks and then head back to Kingston for several exhibition games.

The Colonials will open the 1950 season May 2 at Poughkeepsie and will return to municipal stadium the following day to meet the Chiefs in the local opener.

Rejects Bid

Phoenix, Ariz., March 30 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs have rejected the New York Giants' bid for Phil Cavarretta, veteran first baseman. Manager's Frankie Frisch and Lou Burchard conferred yesterday after which Frisch said nothing doing Cavarretta, who has played 17 years with the Cubs, starred in yesterday's 5-3 triumph over the Giants. He smashed a ninth inning homer, and also had a single and double and registered 15 putouts.

The possibilities of a Cub swap with the Pittsburgh Pirates linger on. The Pirates want catcher Bob Scheffing. They offered infielder Pete Castiglione, but were brushed off. The Cubs would like instead outfielder Wally Westlake.

Beavers' Dambrot Joins Collegiate For Country Tour

Chicago, March 30 (AP)—Irwin Dambrot, captain of City College of New York's grand slam basketball team, today joined the collegiate squad which will oppose the Harlem Globetrotters in a nationwide tour of 17 cities.

The first game in the so-called "world series of basketball" will be played at Chicago Stadium Sunday night.

Dambrot, a forward, has been hailed by his coach, Nat Holman, as the "greatest player I ever coached." He scored 977 points in three years at C.C.N.Y., recent National Invitational and N.C.A.A. victor.

The collegians are coached by Clair Bee of Long Island University, Ithaca, N. Y., and Ray Meyer of De Paul University, Chicago, Ill. The players include Don Rehfeldt, Wisconsin, Kevin O'Shea, Notre Dame, Paul Arizin, Villanova, Bill Erickson, Illinois, John Plich, Wyoming, Hal Haskins, Hamline, Bob Cousy, Holy Cross, and Joe Nelson, Brigham Young.

Chicago, New York Tie Again in Golden Gloves

Chicago, March 30 (AP)—Chicago's Golden Gloves flashed what little knockout punch there was, but still had to settle for a third straight tie with New York in the 23rd Inter-city meet before 15,286 at the Chicago Stadium last night.

The evening's closing bout, a toe-to-toe lightweight thriller, was won by New York's John Boutiller, a Boston University honor student, fashioned the 8-8 deadlock.

Although two of the 16 bouts ended in knockouts, Boutiller's win over the wild-swinging Jesse Brown, Toledo glass plant worker, most electrified the crowd.

Boutiller, son of a former national A.A.U. 160-pound champion, staved off the bull-like rushes of Brown for a close decision. Both fighters were so exhausted at the final bell in the three-round scrap they could hardly stand.

Bowling Scores

The Silver Palace League will hold its annual banquet, Nov. Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. at the Hofbrau, Broadway and St. James street.

Jack Struble rolled off neat scores of 207-185-198 for a 570 series to top the Rookie League session at the Bowlatorium this week.

In the runnerup slot was Joe Heidcamp, Sr., who posted 555. Other worthy scores were J. Heidcamp, Jr., 203-534; Ken Radel, 528; G. Moxham, 518; J. Weishaupt, 513; P. Lymy, 219-510; D. Gaddis, 200-509.

A. Cross polished off one of the two 300's in the Rip Van Winkle League this week and his 538 triple was good enough for top honors. His scores were 211-166-133. Y. Muller was in the No. 2 position with 521.

Bob Garsline shot 490, A. Mazzuca 488, P. Robinson 487, B. Slover 478, D. Tomczyk 475; and J. Bartuch, Sr., 473; J. Ryan 201-468, B. Hornbeck 200-470.

New York, March 30 (AP)—Another burst of demand for radio-television stocks spiced today's market.
While the rest of the market had a somewhat soggy appearance, TV issues supplied fresh proof of their volatility with gains running to more than a point. Quick profit-taking operations laid down the largest advances in most cases.
Fractional losses were the rule elsewhere, with the notable exception of airline issues and a few rails.

Business was done in fits and starts but sales added up to a comfortable total.
News surrounding the TV industry was almost entirely favorable. Radio Corp. of America offered the latest buying stimulant with announcement of a new three-color television picture tube. Radio Corp. was again the most active issue, going up in a steep climb to around 19, a rise of more than a point. One block of 15,000 shares changed hands at 18, a fractional gain.

Also ahead among TV shares were Admiral Corp., Emerson Radio, Philco, Zenith, Motorola, Spink-Withington, AVCO Mfg. and International Telephone.
On the losing side were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, Montgomery Ward International Harvesting, American Telephone, Kennecott Copper, Allied Chemical, DuPont, American Tobacco, Bransford Oil, Gulf Oil and Johns-Manville.
Santa Fe, N. Y. Central and Southern Railway improved in the carrier section.

Quotations by Morgan Davis & Co., members of the New York Stock Exchange, 60 Beaver street, New York city, branch office, 41 John street, R. B. Osterhoudt, manager.

Rifton, March 30—The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed at Rifton Methodist Church on Palm Sunday at 2:30 p. m.
George Clement has returned to work after a recent illness.
At its regular March meeting, the Rifton Board of Pious Commissioners extended thanks to the organization for help towards finishing the firehouse and memorial hall. The place has been painted inside and the heating equipment can be converted into a cool air conditioner in the summer.
At the meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary Monday evening, members who have not paid dues were urged to do so. A social followed the business session.
The first regular meeting of the Home Bureau was held at the firehouse last Thursday and the year's program was arranged.
